It gives us immense pleasure to present the annual report of NCWEB study center, Ramanujan College for the academic session 2018-19. Marching forward with the baton of a successful academic session, we present you the annual report. “A mentor is someone who sees more talent and ability within you, than you see in yourself, and helps bring it out of you.” – Bob Proctor

Our honorable TIC- Dr. T.K Mishra sir, is a real mentor who embodies all the qualities of a great mentor that the above quotation speaks of. He’s a touchstone. His guidance has led us through this extraordinary session. We look forward to him as the banyan tree under whose shade we learn and gain inspiration. We extend a very warm welcome to the respected principal of Ramanujan College, Dr. S.P Aggarwal. He is a visionary who has always been enthusiastic towards NCWEB activities. In the past, he has always been a vital support system in providing us with all the resources in the pursuit of an extraordinary session. We count on your consistent support in the following times to come, sir. We are fortunate to have hardworking and honest teaching and non-teaching staffs. The faculty members of NCWEB at Ramanujan College Study Center have been its strong pillars. Their excellent effort, throughout the session has been vital. Finally, we hail to all the students of NCWEB at Ramanujan College. You have been sincere and punctual. We wish you great success in the future. In this report, we would like to present a brief summary of our achievements on the academic, co-curricular and the extra-curricular front in the year 2018-19.

We feel grateful towards Professor Bindu Puri (Chairperson of Department of Philosophy, JNU) who marked her presence in the Cultural Fest, which was organized on 24th December, 2018. There were numerous activities and competitions like dancing, singing, street plays etc. held on this day, with the participation of 300 students, approximately. The major attractions were the street plays on mob lynching and female feticide.

One of the biggest events of the session was the Annual Day Program, on 23rd March, 2019.

Guests of Honor:

With the participation of more than 500 students and various activities like performance of different dance forms, plays, singing, dancing, fashion show, poetry; the occasion became a bigger one than expected by anyone. The opening words by our loved TIC, Dr. T.K Mishra sir, cheered up the students. Dr. Suman Sharma interacted with the students and her inspirational words motivated them. Some heart-wrenching plays were performed by students on nationalism and surgical strike. Several dance performances gave goosebumps to everyone present there. There were some performances which acted as an eye-opener and helped everyone realize their duties towards the formation of a good society. Many poems were recited which were very soothing, keeping the event in mind. Song performances by some final year students and the faculty members made it jolly. Their voices made everyone move wherever they were seated. A fashion-show by the students on how modern working women dress up; was quite enthralling. Two divyang Professors from JNU mesmerized the audience with their energetic and soulful Sufi songs. Lastly, a ramp walk and dance moves by all the faculty members on the stage was something that's unforgettable. The enthusiasm and positive vibes were at its peak throughout the program.

On 20th April, 2019 a youth fest was organized at BAHA'I Temple to give a farewell to the final year students. It was successfully organized at Lotus Temple in collaboration with SCHOOL OF HAPPINESS, Ramanujan College. The basic purpose was to instill good values in students. The theme of the program was- 'Empowerment of Women, ecofeminism and role of youth'. The function started with a great welcome note by Mrs. Carmel Tripathi (from BAHA'I organization) and Dr. T.K Mishra. Their profound words marked a great beginning. A short film on the value of education and sacrifice was watched by everyone. Two final year students sang few songs on friendship and the pain of asunder. It was very emotional and everyone got nostalgic about their last one year at college. Ms. Karishma Nair delivered a short talk on the 'Role of Youth'. A scintillating street play ('kyun karein hum compromise?') was performed by B.com 2nd year students on the empowerment of women. It was full of sarcasms and exposed the nuisances and Ill-beliefs of our society which make it difficult for a female to live. Several poems were recited by the students on the theme(s) of the occasion. The program ended with a song performance- 'kabhi alvida na kehna', by two faculty members.

Lastly, students were encouraged to take part in a good cause of Ethics and Values Foundation Initiative, organized by School of Happiness, Ramanujan College. It was a two-week long initiative where students and staff members of NCWEB contributed to help the poor children and orphans.

The 2018-19 academic session was a great one with all the above events executed at its best. The words of praises we hear from other colleges and study centers make us feel proud. On this note, we would like to conclude this annual report by once again extending our gratitude to the respected principal of Ramanujan College- Dr. S.P Aggarwal; TIC, NCWEB, Ramanujan College- Dr. T.K Mishra; other dignitaries who have been present in various activities; teaching and non-teaching staffs and all those associated with our study center, who have believed in our vision of progress and perfection.
