CONCEPT NOTE

Ramanujan College, a leading institution under the University of Delhi, has a rich legacy of innovation in faculty development. Recognized as a teaching-learning hub under the esteemed Pandit Madan Mohan Malaviya National Mission on Teachers and Teaching (PMMMMNMTT), the College has been at the forefront of reimagining the training and development of educators to meet the ever-evolving needs of the academic landscape.

During the global pandemic, Ramanujan College leveraged its expertise to create a cutting-edge Learning Management System (LMS), providing self-paced faculty development programmes. These initiatives empowered over 1.5 lakh educators across India, making a profound impact on the academic community and cementing the College's reputation as a national leader in faculty training and innovation.

A New Chapter: UGC Malaviya Mission Teacher Training Programme (MMTTP)

Building on this rich legacy, Ramanujan College is now poised to embark on a new journey of transformative faculty development. Under the revised UGC Madan Mohan Malaviya Teachers Training Programme (MMTTP), the College is proud to announce its first online Guru Dakshta Faculty Induction Programme (FIP). This programme embodies the UGC's vision of fostering a learner-centered, inclusive, and technology-driven ecosystem in higher education.

This dynamic programme will be delivered live via Zoom, offering a highly interactive and engaging learning experience. Structured around the principles of learner engagement and collaborative knowledge-building, it provides newly appointed faculty with the skills, tools, and frameworks needed to thrive as educators, researchers, and institutional leaders.

Through insightful sessions, interdisciplinary approaches, and real-time engagement, the Guru Dakshta Faculty Induction Programme ensures that participants are not just trained but inspired to lead and innovate in their roles.
