

Name of the Faculty: P SAMZEILA SENECA
	Designation and Department: Assistant Professor, Department of Philosophy
	Education and Training: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Undergraduate: BA (hons) Philosophy, Gargi College, University of Delhi</li> <li>• Post Graduate: MA in Philosophy, Miranda House College, University of Delhi</li> <li>• M.Phil. in Philosophy, Department of Philosophy, University of Delhi</li> <li>• Ph.D. enrolled at Department of Philosophy, University of Delhi in 2018</li> </ul>
Contact info Mobile: 9716022049 Email: samzeilaseneca@gmail.com	Teaching Experience: 1 year  Areas of Interest: Teaching: Text of Indian Philosophy, Bioethics, Text of Western philosophy, Philosophy of Law, Feminism.  Research: Applied Ethics, Environmental Ethics.
Subjects Taught: Text of western Philosophy, Text of Indian Philosophy, Bioethics, Ethical Studies, Knowledge and Scepticism.
Conferences-Seminars Presentations and Participations *Presented a paper entitled “The Role of Religion in Protecting the Environment: A Christian Perspective” in the National Conference on Changing Paradigm of Environment Protection in India organized by Prof. Harihar Nath Tripathi Foundation, Varanasi.  *Presented a paper entitled “Role of Traditional Ecological Knowledge (TEK) in Environmental Sustainability: Northeast India Perspective” in the National Seminar on Indigenous (Tribal) Philosophies of North East India: Some contemporary perspectives , organized by Indian Council of Philosophical Research at Assam University.  *Presented a paper entitled “Importance of Indigenous Knowledge in Sustainable Development: Ethical Perspective” in Two Days National Conference on Tribal Communities in India and Sustainable Development Goals: A Way Forward, organized by department of Social Work, Tilak Maharashtra Vidyapeeth, Pune.

* Presented a paper entitled “Human Development and Indigenous way of life: From Northeast India” in All India Philosophy Graduate Conference (AIPGC), held at Department of Philosophy, University of Delhi on 2nd to 4th March 2020.

Administrative Responsibilities: Convenor of Yathārtha, Department of Philosophy, Ramanujan College (June 2021- present)