

Peer Review and Publication Policy

The editor and assistant editors of 'International Journal of Applied Ethics' (IJAE) are responsible for deciding which of the articles submitted to the journal should be considered for publication and sent for peer-review. The policy established with the aim to publish and circulate quality research articles from various subjects. IJAE is a multidisciplinary journal of applied ethics with yearly periodicity. Its review policy is solely objective with vision to publish good scholarly articles and set high standard practice of research writing. To maintain a high-quality publication, all submissions undergo a review process. The main Characteristics of the peer review process are as below:

- Manuscripts contents with outside the scope will not be considered for review.
- Papers will be refereed by at least 2 experts with the subject experts.
- In addition, editors will have the option additional reviews when needed.
- The peer reviewers check the manuscript for accuracy and assess the validity of the research methodology and procedures. If appropriate, they suggest revisions. If they find the article lacking in scholarly validity and rigor, they reject it.
- If the paper not accepted for the publications notified to authors promptly.
- All submitted manuscripts are treated as the paper will not submitted for the process of publication in other Journals as also treated as confidential documents.
- Peer review process is confidential and identities of reviewers cannot be revealed.
- The Journals are free access to read and download the full paper.
- All manuscripts submitted will be checked for plagiarism with the help of Plagiarism Detection Software.

Publication

Submissions of the same manuscript to different journals will not be accepted. The decision about the time of publication will be taken by the Editor in consultation with the editorial board. Editor is responsible for the decision to reject or recommend the manuscript for publication. After acceptance, it takes 15 days to get a citable, uncorrected draft of the article online, another 2 weeks to get the final corrected article online, and a few weeks later this is compiled into an online volume and issue. The print copy follows 2-3 weeks later.

Copyright

Submission of a manuscript implies that the work has not been published before, and that it is not under consideration for publication elsewhere. Acceptance of a manuscript will automatically transfer all copyrights of the manuscript to store, publish, distribute, access, and make commercial use of the article.

Policy on plagiarism

The Journal does check plagiarism of submitted papers through open source software. To complain, please feel free to contact us. The journal will debar the guilty authors from publishing for the period of six months.