PREFACE

The Ramanujan College, formerly known as Deshbandhu College (Evening) was established in 1958 by the Ministry of Rehabilitation, Government of India, in the memory of Late Lala Deshbandhu Gupta, a patriot who had dedicated his life to the national freedom struggle. The Deshbandhu College (Evening) operated from the premises of the Deshbandhu College that functioned in the morning hours. Originally run by the Ministry of Rehabilitation and Education as a men's College, Deshbandhu College (Evening) became a co-educational institution in 1994. This College, which is 100% funded by the University Grants Commission (UGC) has been maintained by the University of Delhi since 1972.

Till the early 90's the College catered to a large number of students who were gainfully employed in the daytime and pursued their studies in the convenience provided by an evening College. During its initial years the College used to function in the late evening hours and developed as a reputed College especially in the field of Commerce studies. Other than B. Com (Honours) and B.Com, the College offered B.A. Programme and Honours courses in English, Hindi and Political Science to its students. The College was also unique because it offered the study of regional languages: Punjabi, Bengali and Sindhi. Late Dr. M.L. Jotwani, an eminent scholar of Sindhi literature and language was a member of the College teaching faculty and did the College proud when he received the Padma Shri in 2003.

In spite of being an evening College that was sharing space and infrastructure with another College, Deshbandhu College (Evening) regularly produced good results in academics and sports. Champion athletes, especially in the fields of power lifting and weight lifting, won University, state and national level acclaim.

In the year 2010, the College got a new identity when the University of Delhi along with UGC and the MHRD renamed Deshbandhu College (Evening) as Ramanujan College, and allocated separate space of seven acres of land within the existing College campus in Kalkaji, New Delhi. From an evening College it become a full-fledged morning College in 2012. The College was given a go ahead to design and construct an independent building and create infrastructure of its own.

We are proud that our College is named after Srinivasa Aiyangar Ramanujan (1887-1920) the legendary Indian mathematician, who during his short lifetime compiled nearly 3900 mathematical results that made him one of the world's greatest-ever mathematical genius.

Though the plans are ready and all permissions and sanctions have been acquired for the construction of a new building in the land allocated to our College, the College is yet to get funds to construct its own building. Nevertheless, in the past four years, we have been able to immensely develop the space and resources available to us. We have constructed twenty six spacious, well ventilated, ICT enabled portable cabins and created additional space, infrastructure and facilities for more class rooms, auditorium and laboratories. We are in the process of constructing ten additional portable cabins. Additional staff rooms, extra washrooms, rooms for different centres of academic excellence and a renovated library with air conditioned reading rooms have been constructed for students and teachers.

We have added generators for uninterrupted power supply and augmented our water supply system and provided continuous RO filtered drinking water for our students, teachers and the non-teaching staff. Many air-conditioned spaces have been created in the office, staffroom, library, auditorium and activity halls for the comfort of all. We have kept the needs of the physically disabled as a priority in our developmental schemes. Our dependence on shared infrastructure has reduced considerably through our own efforts.

Today, the Ramanujan College offers Honours degree courses in Commerce, Mathematics, Computer Science, Economics, Statistics, Psychology, English, Hindi and Political Science. It continues to offer B.A. Programme and B.Com courses as before. It is the third largest College for Commerce education in the University of Delhi. The College looks forward to a large expansion which is in tune with contemporary academic and professional requirements of our country. In the near future we seek to introduce Honours courses in Journalism in English, History, Bachelor of Business Studies (BBS) and Philosophy. We have also applied to the UGC for eight proposed programmes under the Deen Dayal Upadhyay Centres for Knowledge Acquisition and Upgradation of Skilled Human Abilities and Livelihood (KAUSHAL) scheme. The College has a highly qualified and experienced faculty some of whom are also engaged in post graduate teaching at the University. A large number of our teachers have original published academic and creative work in reputed national and international journals. Departments of the College regularly organise seminars, workshops and special lectures to benefit both students and teachers. We endeavour to make our College a centre for excellence in interdisciplinary studies and research.

The College has a well stocked, information technology enabled and computerized library, with about 30,000 books including the latest publication and journals in all the subjects taught in the College. This, together with state-of-the-art computer labs, offers students access to new horizons of learning.

A number of academic prizes and scholarships are being offered to meritorious students. Financial assistance in the form of fee-concession is given to deserving and needy students. Our large playground and good facilities for sports have helped us to maintain a tradition of excellence in sports. Our sportspersons continue to win various prizes at the University, Delhi State and national levels.

One of the new innovative initiatives has been the setting up of the Centre for Ethics and Values in 2010. Keeping in mind the pressing need to mould a socially concerned and conscientious student with moral and ethical uprightness, this centre blends its activities with the regular academic and cultural programmes of the College. Other than organising lectures, debates and discussions, the Centre encourages introspection and positive thinking and has creatively involved the students through internship, summer training, poster making, theatre, art and music, in ideas related to ethics and morality. The Centre has organised two international and one national level seminars and has published three volumes of the International Journal of Applied Ethics. The Centre has also published a book entitled Ethics in Governance (2011).

The College campus is a lively hub of both academic and co-curricular activities which are meant to nurture the all-round development of the students. The annual cultural festival of the College JOSH, which attracts students from Colleges across the city, is a popular event where students showcase their talents in music, dance, theatre, oration and art and craft. The College has a theatre group Jazba that has been winning acclaim for their socially relevant theatre presentation. Their evocative street play called Bhook dealing with the issues of hunger in our country won the 'Sahitya Kala Parishad Award' for the best street play in their inter-college competition in 2015. They have also produced plays dealing with consumer awareness for the Ministry of Consumer Affairs. The film appreciation club of the College First Cut cultivates the talents of future film makers and has produced a number of well made short films. We believe the students of the College are its real assets, giving it strength and character.

The Ramanujan College won the 'Good Practices Award' in 2014 at the annual festival of the University of Delhi – Antardhvani. The College is aspiring for a future of growth and development. It seeks to make its place as a foremost academic institution in the country.

This Self Study Report follows the guidelines of the National Assessment and Accreditation Council's (NAAC) Manual for Self Study Report for Constituent Colleges. The entire teaching faculty and the non-teaching staff of the College have worked very hard in the preparation of this report. We have made an introspective and honest self study of our college and recorded it in the various sections and units of this report. I am privileged to submit this report to the National Assessment and Accreditation Council for assessment and accreditation of the institution.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The Ramanujan College, which began as Deshbandhu College (Evening) in 1958, remained for more than five decades a college that functioned only in the latter half of the day. In spite of the fact that the College had a reputation of being a good educational institute that catered to the academic needs of the students who were employed during the day time, the College was never taken as seriously as a full-time morning college generally is. It was only in 2010, when Deshbandhu College (Evening) was renamed as Ramanujan College and was elevated to the status of a full-time morning college with the promise of a building of its own that a surge of enthusiasm and renewed commitment galvanized the College towards greater heights.

The approach to develop the College was two pronged. Firstly, the College sought to provide itself with good infrastructural facilities in terms of more classrooms, a multipurpose auditorium, seminar and conference halls and an uninterrupted and adequate electricity and water supply. The overall ambiance of the college was to be enhanced with an aesthetically pleasing environment constituting lawns, gardens and pathways. The second initiative was to expand the academic spectrum of the College through the introduction of new courses, centers of excellence and providing the students with the opportunity of various extracurricular activities.

In the past five years, much of the developmental objectives of the College have been achieved despite the fact that we have not received funds to proceed with the construction of the new College building, though plans and permission have been sanctioned and obtained for it.

The College offers courses in Commerce, Humanities and Science. The College has a faculty of 97 teachers (permanent, ad-hoc and part time), 53 non-teaching staff and 2 technical staff, and about 2,000 students.

Presented below are the brief summaries of the seven criteria of evaluation used in the Self Study Report:

Criterion I: Curricular Aspects

Inspired by the name of the great mathematician, Srinivasa Aiyangar Ramanujan, our College adheres to the core values of dedication, hard work and commitment as encapsulated in the motto of the University of Delhi. The syllabus and curriculum followed by the College is set by the University of Delhi. Some of the members of our Faculty are also members of curriculum framing committees of the University Departments. The College caters to almost 50% of the students belonging to the economically weaker sections of the society. It is a challenge to achieve the curriculum objectives, but the teachers of the College have evolved innovative and effective ways of delivering curriculum content that is specifically moulded for the students of our College. The College has provided laptops to all its teachers and all the classrooms are ICT enabled and the entire campus is Wi-Fi enabled. This has greatly facilitated the implementation of the curriculum as important online data bases of research journals, which the College and the University subscribes to, are available in the classroom as an aid to teaching. The faculty regularly sends feedback to the University Departments regarding the curriculum with suggestions for restructuring and improvement. With the dynamics of the employment market in mind and with the intention of providing skill development courses, the College has introduced three certificate courses: Certificate Course in Human Rights, Personality and English Enhancement Course and Certificate Course in French Language. There are plans to introduce four more Honours courses. Now, the emphasis is on interdisciplinary and experiential pedagogy that integrates issues of gender, language, environment, human rights and information technology. The College organises regular seminars, special lectures, educational excursions and trips along with faculty development programmes and training modules for the effective implementation of the curriculum. To evaluate the curriculum delivery and its effectiveness, the College Internal Quality Assessment Cell (IQAC) has initiated feedback systems for both students and the faculty. The College is also planning to introduce an online feedback system for the students from the next academic year.

Criterion II: Teaching, Learning and Evaluation

The Ramanujan College considers its smooth and efficient admission process as one of its best practices. This ensures that the students who are admitted to the College establish a warm bonding with the Institution. This bonding is reflected in the cordial relations between the teacher and the student, which goes a long way to ensure a healthy teaching-learning process. In accordance to the rules of the University of Delhi regarding admissions, the College have seen a steady rise in its cut-off percentages in the past five years, which means academically better students are seeking admissions to the College every year. The College encourages the women students by giving concessions on cut-off percentage as a part of its admission policy. A large number of students from the economically weaker section of the society are admitted to the College along with students from the North Eastern states of the country. The College also admits differently-abled students and provides them with all the support. The College helps students with fee concessions, scholarships from the Student's Aid Fund and remedial classes are organised to bridge the knowledge gaps and support the marginalised students. The faculty has evolved innovative approaches for teaching which includes field visits, film screening, presentations and project work. The computerised library with about 30,000 books is a support to the teaching-learning process with about 500 users accessing it every day. The time-table is prepared well in advance in the beginning of an academic session so that the teaching can begin from the very first day of the session. The syllabus is available on the College website. The College has a system of feedback and regular assessment meetings in each Department to ensure effective delivery of the syllabus and evaluate the learning levels. The College recruits the best of the academic minds and encourages the teachers to pursue higher academics, research and knowledge upgradation. The College IAQC monitors the data regarding the performances of the students in the exams and internal assessments and suggests ways of improvement in the teaching-learning process. Policies regarding effective implementation of time-tables, extra classes, internal assessment are set by the IAQC in consultation with the Departments. For the past few years the College, for reasons beyond its control, has not been able to recruit permanent faculty and has appointed ad-hoc and guest faculty. This has certainly affected the teaching-learning process and we hope that with more appointments of permanent faculty, the teaching-learning process will be further strengthened.

CRITERION III: Research and Consultancy

As an undergraduate constituent College of the University of Delhi, research possibilities in the College are limited. Nevertheless, the College promotes and encourages research by its faculty and tries to inculcate research-oriented academics for its students. Various FDPs, workshops and seminars are organized by the College to encourage faculty research. Regular paper presentations and original project work by the students is an integral part of the pedagogic process in the College. The College has been sanctioned three Innovation Projects, which have research components in it, by the University of Delhi. With the introduction of the Robotics and Artificial Intelligence Laboratory and the Ramanujan Centre for Applied Mathematics and Research, the College is now moving into areas of advanced research. Individually, the teachers of the College have done independent research in their fields and have been regularly presenting and publishing their research works in books and both national and international journals. The present faculty has 160 research publications and 66 books to its credit. The faculty is also engaged in providing their scholarship as resource to other academic institutions. To keep abreast with the latest in the field, the College has been inviting eminent speakers and experts from across the country for special lectures in the College. In the past two years more than 40 such scholars have visited the College. As a part of inter-disciplinary approaches to research, the College has been having inter-departmental workshops and Faculty Development Programmes. The Centre for Ethics and Values plays a crucial role in promoting extension activities of the College by engaging the faculty and the students in innovative manners. It is done by liasoning the Institution with the immediate neighbourhood and the society at large. The Centre for Ethics and Values has published three volumes of the International Journal of Applied Ethics. Five members of the faculty have also received awards and recognition for their research work.

CRITERION IV: Infrastructure and Learning Resources

In the last four years, the College has spent more than Rs. 5 crore on augmenting its infrastructure and learning resources. The College has invested considerably in constructing 26 porta-cabins for holding classes and other activities. We intend to construct another 10 porta-cabins and one more computer lab for the next academic year. Arrangements for adequate water supply and electricity has also been made. We have spent almost Rs. 18 lacs in the financial year 2014-15 on just the purchase and maintenance of computers. We have 120 computers in our labs and we have distributed 800 computers (laptops) to the students that were given to the College by the University of Delhi. As a resource, we have added the Ramanujan Centre for Applied Mathematics and Research, the Robotics and Artificial Intelligence

Laboratory, the Centre for Ethics and Values and the Centre for Human Rights. We have plans ready for the introduction of a Media Lab in the next academic year. As a part of developing sports facilities we have created a 400 meter long athletic track and a cricket pitch. We also have a gymnasium and a yoga room. The renovated air-conditioned hall, with a seating capacity for 150 people, is extensively used for special functions, extracurricular and cultural activities. The plans and sanctions for the new College building have been obtained and the construction will begin as soon as the funds are released.

In the financial year 2013-14, the library spent almost Rs. 8 lacs for purchasing books. There are almost 30, 000 books in the library. The library is equipped with the latest computer technology for issuing of the books and for accessing the internet. The library is also connected to data bases of the University of Delhi.

As infrastructural support and resource the College has constructed ramps, accessible washrooms, Braille-enabled sign boards and Braille books for the students and faculty with physical disabilities.

Criterion V: Student Support and Progression

The College every year publishes its Prospectus at the time of admissions, detailing the aims and objectives of the Institution, and uploads it on the website. The details regarding the courses and rules and regulations are also mentioned in the Prospectus. There are a number of Staff Council Committees that are responsible for various activities of the College. The Institution offers a number of academic prizes and scholarships to the meritorious students. The College has a Students Aid Fund through which financial assistance is provided to the economically weak students. The College provides financial assistance to the students who represent the College in different extracurricular activities.

Academic support to the students is provided on a regular basis with extra classes and remedial classes. On Sundays and holidays, general computer training classes are held for all the students. Classes to train Hindi typing on computers are also regularly held. The Personality and English Enhancement Course, the Human Rights Course and Certificate Course in French Language are added learning incentives to the students, keeping the market demands in mind. The Computer Science Department and the Mathematics Department also conduct special computer software training classes. The College in association with the National Institute of Entrepreneurship and Small Business has trained over 500 students in various aspects of Entrepreneurship.

The College supports the students in their extracurricular activities and has societies for dance, music, art, films theatre and debating. It also promotes NCC and NSS programmes. A large number of students are involved in these activities. The Annual Cultural Festival – JOSH is a platform for the students to showcase their talents and skills. The students of the Ramanujan have been consistently winning prizes at inter-college competitions especially in theatre, music and film making. The Centre for Ethics and Values does outreach programmes and involve the students with the larger social issues.

The Department of Physical Education and Sports Sciences has provided facilities for various sports activities in the college. The talented sports persons are supported through special dietary supplements, uniform and equipments. The College bears the expenses for their participation in various competitions both in the city and outside.

The College Placement Cell regularly invites corporate houses for student counselling and recruitment. The College has been able to successfully place a number of its students every year in the private sector.

The College Grievance Redressal Cell and the Sexual Harassment Prevention Committee keep a strict vigil. In case of complaints, immediate decisions and actions are taken.

For the past five years, the students of the College have shown improvement in their performance in the University Examinations. The total number of first divisions has been rising consistently. More than 50% of our students secured First Division in the last academic year.

The Ramanujan College alumni meet annually in a gala get together. The College has begun to take feedback from its alumni in order to create a data bank of information.

Criterion VI: Governance and Leadership

The Ramanujan College is governed by a Governing Body, which is constituted by the University of Delhi. The Governing Body is headed by the Chairman. The College is proud to have many distinguished individuals as its Chairman. The present Governing Body is extremely supportive of the College's present and future plans. The Principal of the College provides the leadership and executes the decisions taken by the Governing Body. The Principal is also the Chairperson of the College Staff Council and its committees. Most of the activities of the College are managed by the Staff Council-constituted committees. The College is managed through a democratic process of collective decision-making and participative management.

The College is 100% financed by the University of Delhi and the UGC. The accounts of the College are audited internally by the University of Delhi and by the CAG externally. The College is bound by the Right to Information Act and has a Public Information Officer to address all queries filed under the RTI. The College has acquired the ISO 9001:2008 Certification for Office Proceedings.

Performance appraisal of the faculty is done as per the University guidelines. With the initiatives of the IQAC, the feedback system from the students and the faculty has been formalised. The IQAC has been able to initiate reformative processes within the College, particularly in the area of teaching-learning and evaluation practices.

Criterion VII: Innovations and Best Practices

The Ramanujan College has initiated a number of innovative practises. The focus has been on the environment and the society. The College showcases some of its most innovative ideas as best practices. In the absence of a building due to non availability of funds, the College has built a campus of its own by constructing 26 porta-cabins and creating a pleasing environment with pathways, gardens and lawns. This way, the College circumvented the problem of classroom space and was able to expand by introducing new courses and creating space for labs, activity rooms and centres for promoting excellence.

The College is proud to present the activities of the Centre for Ethics and Values as one of the best practices. It is indeed a unique venture. The Centre is has successfully integrated ethical and moral values in the students through interdisciplinary creative and imaginative activities that involve the entire college community.

The College regards its reformed, extremely efficient and student-friendly admission process as another of its best practices. The College believes that the students seeking admission must be given the highest priority and made to feel comfortable and welcome. The College has evolved a very simple but efficient admission process with the help of technology and the support of its staff.

The College constantly endeavours to make its campus eco-friendly. Waste management, rain water harvesting, tree plantation and regular cleanliness drives are central to the Institution's constant effort towards keeping the College campus clean and healthy.

SWOC ANALYSIS

STRENGTHS

1. We have a very supportive, encouraging, motivating and cooperative Top Management and Administration.
2. The College has a highly qualified, dedicated and hard-working teaching faculty, many of whom are also technically competent.
3. It is our strength that we function with enthusiasm and gusto from the temporary but spaciouly built and information technology-enabled porta cabins for classes and other activities in absence of the new building for which funds are awaited.
4. We have highly motivated staff who are always eager to experiment and innovate, resulting in high academic performance.
5. We face challenges with fortitude.

WEAKNESSES

1. The College needs to have a greater interaction with industry to ensure that the aspirations of the students find fulfilment. This is required to convert the knowledge gathered in the College through curriculum into practical skills that can accomplish the developmental needs of the country.
2. The College also feels the need to establish greater contact with agencies/institutions outside the College and its parent University for research purposes. This is also necessary to expand the research interest of the faculty and to provide them adequate resource support.
3. For the past many years, the process of appointment of teachers has not been a regular and smooth process in the University of Delhi. This has skewed the ratio of permanent faculty in relation to the ad-hoc, temporary and guest faculty. There is an urgent need to increase the percentage of permanent faculty for a balanced overall growth of the Institution.

OPPORTUNITIES

1. The expansion of the College that is on the cards in the near future is the biggest opportunity for not only a modern-state-of-the-art infrastructural facility but also for the introduction of new courses that are the need of the hour.
2. It is an opportunity to put our minds and abilities together to bridge the existing knowledge gaps between different sections of our society.
3. In a globalizing world, it is an opportunity to empower our students with the ability to transform their knowledge into skills and transact these skills to become responsible citizens of the world.

CHALLENGES

1. It is a challenge to secure adequate funds for the new building.
2. It is a challenge to motivate young minds away from cynicism and helplessness and inspire them into creative, innovative and imaginative thinking.
3. It is a challenge to make the youth of today ethically and morally strong with a conscience and compassion for humanity at large.
4. Since two full-fledged colleges share the same space and building infrastructure there are challenges in the day to day functioning.

1.1.2 Action plans for effective implementation of the curriculum

The curriculum for different subjects taught in the College is set by the various Departments of the University of Delhi. As a constituent college it follows the syllabus and curriculum set by the University of Delhi.

In addition, the teachers of the College regularly attend meetings held at the Departments of the University regarding the curriculum setup/ revision. The curriculum is intimated by the University to the College through regular circulars and the University website. The College has also put up the entire syllabus and curriculum on its website. The College has published a handout that contains details of the curriculum and syllabus of each subject and department for ready use and reference.

The Time-Table Committee of the College designs a master time-table that distributes subject classes, contact/tutorial classes and practical classes in a manner that makes teaching efficient. Special in-house customized software designed by the students of the Department of Computer Science is being used to ensure optimal usage of the available classrooms and design the best suited time-table for each department. For transparency and efficiency teachers' time-tables and class time-tables are prominently displayed on the notice boards for students and is also available College website.

The Departments hold monthly meeting to assess the covered curriculum and discuss the difficulties the students and teachers may be facing in the classes. Detailed reports of these meetings are sent to the Principal.

Each class has a class representative and it is his or her duty to report to the Teacher-In-Charge in case of problems and difficulties being faced in the teaching-learning process.

The student and teacher feedback helps the College to identify the problem areas of the curriculum and this is officially intimated to the Departments of the University. Members of the teaching faculty also give their valuable inputs in University Departmental meetings. Nevertheless, the feedback does have a great impact on the methodology and approach of teaching curriculum at the classroom level.

The Staff Council and the Departmental meetings are held to monitor academic quality and suggestions from the teaching faculty help in initiating required changes.

1.4 Feedback System

1.4.1 Contributions of the Institution in the design and development of the curriculum prepared by the University.

Many members of our teaching faculty are involved in the process of curriculum development at the University level. The entire admission process of the College is computerized. The College Prospectus is available on the website (<http://www.ramanujancollege.ac.in>) for the ready reference of the applicants. The College provides counseling and guidance by the subject teachers available at the admission help-desk before the date of admission and during the admission process. Publicity of the admission to the college is done on a large scale by the University through newspapers, the University Prospectus, Information Bulletin and through Open House Sessions for prospective students in both the North and the South Campuses of the University. These Open House Sessions are attended by the representatives of our College. Admission-related information is duly sent to the University for verification and the list of admitted students is being displayed on the website.

Cut-off lists of each subject is published on the College and the University websites, newspapers, as well as posted on the College's notice boards during admission as per the schedule of the University of Delhi.

The registration of candidates for admission under the minority category and any other special category, allowed by rules of University of Delhi, e.g. sports, extracurricular activities, differently-abled, is done separately. To ensure transparency, the member teachers of the Cultural Committee of the College set the guidelines for selection under various categories, e.g. dance, music, drama and oratory skills. The College invites experts from other Colleges or Departments of the University of Delhi to judge the students as per the guidelines of the University of Delhi. The list of selected candidates is displayed on the College's notice boards and its website. Similarly, the members of the Sports Committee of the College shortlists candidates according to the achievement certificates provided and call those candidates for selection. The external expert sent by the University of Delhi for each sport, oversees the entire process to ensure fairness and transparency.

2.1.2 Criteria adopted and process of admission.

Admission is done strictly on the basis of merit. The University sets up a criterion of admission for a particular academic year. These criteria change from year to year. Broadly, the University recognizes the elective and the vocational subjects that are offered by various boards across the country. In the language subjects; elective, core and functional are generally accepted by the University. The average percentage of the best of four subjects of the final school exam, including one language, is considered for admissions. The cut-off percentage is decided by the College and announced through the College's and the University's websites, newspapers and notice boards.

Any other special requirements are also displayed on the notice board and website. If seats remain vacant, the cut-off percentage is lowered in subsequent round of admissions. The University allows as many as seven rounds of admission process to exhaust all available seats. If seats still remain vacant, then the College advertises seeking fresh admission applications.

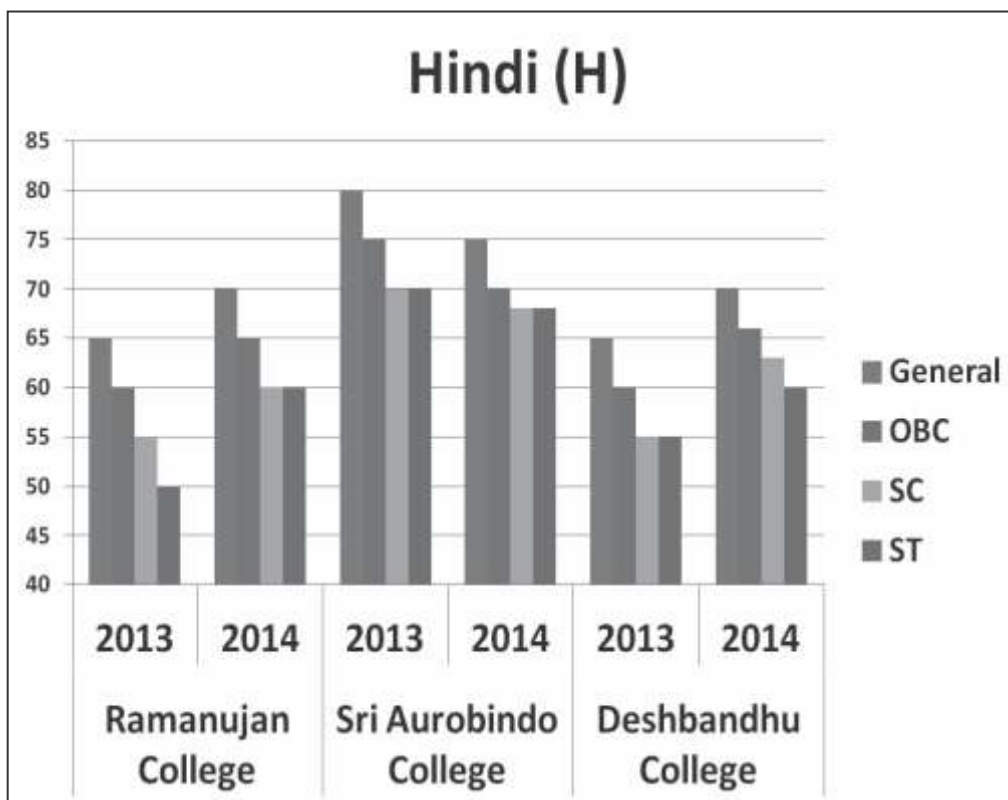

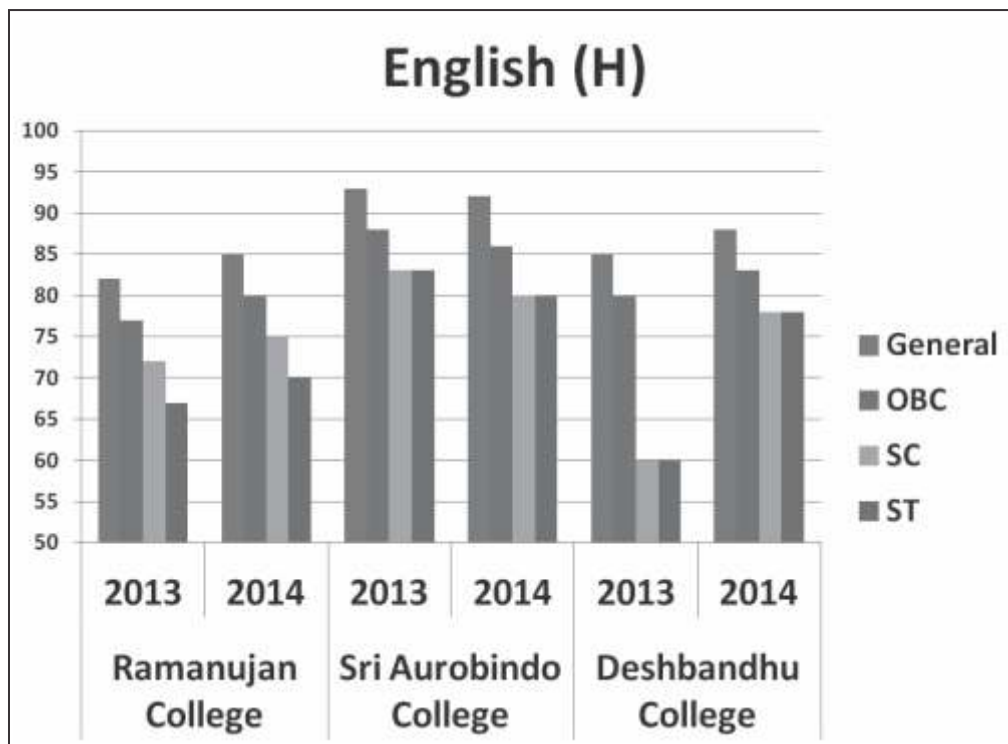

The process of admission in our College is specifically described in details in the section on Best Practices. The parents or guardians, accompanying the students, acknowledge and appreciate this. We believe that the manner in which we organize our Admission process is extremely systematic, efficient and student-friendly. We consider it as one of our Best Practices.

2.1.4 Reviewing the admission process and student profiles annually.

The Admission Committee reviews the admission process and the students' profiles (determined mainly through cut-off percentages) and reports to the Staff Council. The Admission Committee also looks into the grievances, and is responsible for their mitigation. The Admission Committee ensures fair and smooth admission for all applicants, including categories like differently-abled, staff quota, extracurricular activities (ECA), sports and foreign nationals. It is for the Admission Committee to correctly interpret and implement the guidelines of the admission policy of the University of Delhi.

2.1.5 Strategies adopted by the institution to demonstrate/reflect the National commitment to diversity and inclusion.

The location of the Ramanujan College is at the intersection of high profile upper-middle class colonies of South Delhi and the upcoming suburban rural and urban colonies located in the South and South East part of the city bordering the state of Haryana. This provides the College with a catchment area that is economically and socially diverse with a substantial population of minorities.

The College has as a policy of giving benefit of percentage marks at the point of admission to women students. Since 1994, when the College became a co-educational college, the College aligned itself with the national goal of educating and empowering women in our society. With a very strict and vigilant anti-sexual harassment and anti-ragging committee, the College reaches out to its women students, especially the ones from economically weaker sections with moral support. The change of the College timing from late evening/afternoon to morning has also helped the woman students, specially the one who commute from far distances.

The OBC, SC, ST students are given preference as per the University of Delhi guidelines and directives. Extra effort is put so as to fill up the seats of these categories. Foreign nationals and students from Jammu and Kashmir and also armed forces are given preference.

For the past five years we have seen a substantial number of students from the states of the North East. A teacher has been given the responsibility to address any problems faced by the students from the North Eastern states of the country. The College plans to provide an exclusive hostel to the students from the North East as and when it is able to construct its own building.

The Cultural Committee, the NSS and the Student's Union is especially cautious and ensures that no discrimination takes place in selection of students for various cultural and other extracurricular activities on the basis of gender, caste, region, race and religion.

The College has provided infrastructural facilities for the differently-abled students by constructing ramps, specially designed toilets. Reading material in the Braille is available in the Library. Regular remedial classes for academically weak students are organized. Financial assistance in the form of fee concession is given to the economically weaker sections.

2.1.6 Various academic programs offered by the Institution during the last four years.

Statistics were introduced under the Four Year Undergraduate Program (FYUP) of the University of Delhi in 2013. These subjects were discontinued when the FYUP was withdrawn in 2014. The College plans to reintroduce these courses from the 2015-16 academic year. B.A. Program and B.Com courses were discontinued in 2013 with the introduction of FYUP but were reinstated when FYUP was withdrawn.

2.2 Catering to Student Diversity

2.2.1 Adherence to government policies with respect to Differently-abled students

The College has initiated many steps for the benefits of differently-abled students as per the University of Delhi and the Government of India ordinances. All the policies delineated by the Equal Opportunities Cell (EOC) of the University of Delhi are implemented by the College.

The College campus is accessible and movement friendly for the differently-abled with ramps, signage, and washrooms specially designed for the different abled.

No fee is charged from them.

Study material specially designed for their use is available in the library.

A tablet and a personal computer have been given to the differently-abled.

Special attention and care is taken during exams and readers and writers are provided.

The College has a wheel chair that is available at all times.

2.2.2 Assessment of the students' needs in terms of knowledge and skills before the commencement of the program.

The College has no provision for such an assessment of the student before the commencement of a program. Nevertheless, during admissions, help desks are provided and counseling is done to prospective admission seekers regarding the salient features of a particular course, its academic demands, the nature of its syllabus and its career opportunities. The teacher-in-charges of the Departments along with other members of the Departments help the students to make an informed choice before taking admission.

2.2.3 Strategies adopted by the Institution to bridge the knowledge gap of the enrolled students.

The College has been regularly holding Remedial Classes for the academically weak students. The College has also introduced the Personality and English Enhancement Course along with the Certificate Course on Human Rights and French language.

In keeping with the mission and objectives of the College the focus is on reaching out towards the less privileged sections of the society and addressing the needs of students from diverse social, economic and religious backgrounds. For the achievement of this goal the College is committed towards encouraging women to educate themselves, provide a friendly environment to the differently abled students and students who come from other parts of the country. The College consciously pursues a policy of non discrimination.

2.2.4 Sensitization of staff and students on issues such as gender, inclusion, environment.

The College has a powerful Sexual Harassment Prevention Committee that is empowered to decide on cases of sexual harassment and recommend necessary punitive measures. This Committee also organizes gender sensitization lectures and workshops. The Environment Club O-Zone, is very active in keeping the College environment clean and eco friendly. Cleanliness campaigns, more so with the introduction of the Prime Minister inspired Swachh Bharat Movement, are regular feature of the College. Posters, banners and notices regarding the need to keep the environment clean are regularly put up.

The College has a special cell, with a teacher-in-charge, to look after the special needs of the students from the North East. Care is taken that no form of discrimination is practiced. This also applies to scheduled caste and scheduled tribe students. The academic interventions in forms of seminars, discussions and lectures organized by the Centre for Ethics and Values also helps in maintaining a level of consciousness and conscience regarding these issues. There are members in the faculty who do research and write on Dalit Literature and Sociology and actively participate in raising the conscious level of students regarding discriminations in our society and its ways of prevention.

2.2.5 Identifying and responding to special educational/learning needs of advanced learners.

The College is proud to acknowledge that there are a large number of bright and academically proficient students in the College. In the classroom the teachers are able to identify such students and assess their aptitude and encourage them through special academic projects and other co-curricular activities to optimize their potential. The Department of English has initiated a program of writing research papers which are evaluated and awarded. Identified advanced learners have been selected for innovation projects of the University of Delhi. One of our students has been awarded half major scholarship by the International Committee of Adlerian Summer Schools and Institutes (ICASSI) to attend the two weeks Course of the 47th annual Rudolf Dreikurs Summer Schools and Institute in Canterbury, United Kingdom. There is a constant effort to have a close interaction between the faculty and academically proficient students so that these students are benefited with added discussion and provided with latest reading material.

2.2.6 Analysis of academic performance of the marginalised students.

The Institution collects information from teachers and analyses results and identifies weaker students. The Institution initiates special classes, provides books and other study material for such students. There is a Fee Concession and Students' Aid Fund for the economically deprived students.

The teachers of the College Council advise economically weaker students as to how they could address their economic or personal problems. There are very few students who dropout of the College due to financial inability. Nevertheless, the College authorities are always willing to solve such problems.

2.3 Teaching-Learning Process

2.3.1 Planning and organizing the teaching, learning and evaluation schedules.

The Academic Calendar of the University of Delhi provides details regarding the teaching and examination/evaluation schedule for the academic year beginning in July every year. The University sends this Calendar to all its constituent colleges and the colleges are required to comply.

Towards the end of every academic year the Staff Council of Ramanujan College decides on the College activities it plans to hold in the next academic session and sets up different committees for its implementation.

The Time-Table Committee coordinates with the teacher-in-charges of each Department and prepares the class time-table well in advance of the academic session so that the teachers are aware of the classes from the first day of the academic session. The class time-table and the individual time-tables are put up on the College website. The time-tables are also put up in front of every classroom for the convenience of the students. The Library Committee allocates funds for purchase of new books and other requirements of the library.

2.3.2 Contribution of IQAC to improve the Teaching – Learning Process

The Internal Quality Assessment Cell (IQAC) reviews research and specialization work done by the faculty and also the innovative work done by the Departments and allocates workload accordingly.

The IQAC has suggested ways of implementing of curriculum at the classroom level. It has initiated a student as well as a teacher feedback system. It has recommended the setting up of the Robotics Lab and the Mathematics Lab. The IQAC has deliberated on the issue of academic growth of the College and recommended the introduction of a number of courses that would help in the College realizing its vision of an integrated and inter-disciplinary academic development.

The IQAC Committee has recommended eight proposed programmes under the Deen Dayal Upadhyay Centres for Knowledge Acquisition and Upgradation of Skilled Human Abilities and Livelihood (KAUSHAL) scheme for which the College has sought approval from UGC.

The IQAC has also approved of the College's application for the Star Innovation Projects of the University of Delhi.

2.3.3 Student-centric learning – support structures

The College strives to make the learning environment student-centric and student friendly both in terms of infrastructure and human resource. There is considerable emphasis on interactive class room teaching which is validated in the departmental meetings. The students are given time and freedom to work on a wide range of projects and assignments. The College is ICT enabled and all classrooms are provided with projectors. The campus is Wi-Fi enabled. All teachers have been provided with laptops. PowerPoint presentations, demonstration through film clips are extensively used in pedagogic practices helping the student to learn effectively. The Library has the latest books and book demands from students are also accommodated. The Department Associations organise festivals, showcasing academic talents through quizzes, essay writing, debates and presentations. These Associations also bring out their own newsletters.

2.3.4 Nurturing critical thinking, creativity and scientific temper among the students.

Like in all good teaching learning process interactive methods are best suited for enhancing creative and critical thinking. Other than discussions, talks, seminars presentations and workshops, the College encourages tours and excursions to museums, exhibitions, historical places and industries. These trips which are often accompanied by lectures help the students to evolve a holistic learning process. The College has participated in all the six Gyanodaya projects of the University of Delhi and sent batches of students to different parts of the country. The projects and reports submitted by the students are proof of the integrated learning process involved in these tours.

Our College students have also been part of the three innovation projects sanctioned by the University of Delhi to our College.

The enthusiastic involvement of students in various societies of the College also helps in nurturing creative and rational thinking. Especially the Environment Club O-Zone, the dramatic society Jazba and the film appreciation club First Cut. The students are able to creatively express their learning in a socially conscious manner through the activities of these societies.

2.3.5 Availability of technologies and facilities for faculty for effective teaching

The teachers of the College have been provided with laptops for use in the Wi-Fi enabled campus and for presentations in classroom through the available ICT technology. The computerised Library has well informed staffs that help and cooperate with teachers and help them in their academic endeavors.

2.3.6 The students and faculty exposed to advanced level of knowledge and skills.

The College encourages teachers to regularly attend lectures, seminars, conferences, group discussions, and workshops related to their areas of interest and expertise organised by various institutes or universities and updates their advanced level of knowledge and skills. Students have been also attending summer camps and workshops on specialised learning. One of our students has been awarded half major scholarship by the International Committee of Adlerian Summer Schools and Institutes (ICASSI) to attend the two weeks Course of the 47th annual Rudolf Dreikurs Summer Schools and Institute in Canterbury, United Kingdom.

2.3.7 Benefit of academic, personal and psycho-social support and guidance services

The College provides and encourages a student-friendly approach right from the top administrator to the non-teaching staff of the College. This friendly ambiance helps in creating an atmosphere of cordiality in which the students feel supported and secure. The teacher-student engagement both in classroom and outside it in form of the various activities help in benefitting the student with academic, personal and psycho-social support and guidance.

With the introduction of the Psychology Department, the College now has qualified and competent teachers who address the larger psycho-social issues from the point of view of a professional expert.

2.3.8 Innovative teaching approaches/methods adopted by the faculty.

The College administration encourages innovative teaching practices and methods as it has become imperative in the modern globalizing world to mold students into well informed knowledgeable individuals who have a wide range of interests and skills. The College has provided laptops to all the teachers so that they can use the projector systems in the classroom for presentations and film screenings. The College also supports field trips and visits to museums and historical sites for an experiential teaching learning process. The College has also encouraged the Departments to engage members of other faculties in their seminars and workshops.

The Centre for Ethics and Values (Please see in ‘Best Practices’ Section) has helped in this integrated and inter-disciplinary approach to study by involving all students and all the Departments in its innovative approach towards inculcating value based learning.

The students studying issues of gender, race, caste and class as a part of their academic curriculum are also members of the College dramatic society Jazba and the film appreciation club First Cut where their classroom learning is expressed in creative and innovative manner in the theatre and films presented by them.

2.3.9 Use of Library resources to augment the teaching- learning process

The Library is the center of academic environment of the College. With around 30,000 books in the Library, and a number of journals, newspapers and magazines in subscription, the library is much used resource of the College. With reading room facilities for about 200 students and teachers, the totally computerized open access system library is also air conditioned. E-resources are made available to teachers and students. The Library is kept open during the exam preparatory holidays and the summer vacations. It is also connected to the University of Delhi Library system.

The Library Committee functioning under the Staff Council allocates funds for the various Departments and deliberates on the different developmental activities that need to be taken up in the library. The faculty is allowed to procure books all around the year. Stock taking of the library books is done annually and the expert advice of the Department is sought when there is need to weed out books.

2.3.10 Challenges in completing the curriculum within the planned time frame and calendar

The College seriously endeavors to complete curriculum within time frame and calendar. Since the implementation of the Semester system in the University of Delhi, and the introduction of bi-annual examinations the time frame to complete course is considerably tightened and thus completing course is a challenge.

The challenge is taken up earnestly by the College by adopting the following measures:

1. The Master Time-Table is prepared well before the commencement of the academic session and the Departments prepare individual and class time-tables which are uploaded on the College website before beginning of the semester. Time-tables are sent to the faculty through e-mail. This ensures that classes commence on the very first day of the semester.
2. Students from second semester onwards are informed that course work begins on the first day irrespective of announcement of results of the previous semester exam.
3. The Departments hold monthly assessment meetings to take cognizance of course work completed and report it to the College administration. The Departments also ensure that reading material and texts for various courses are all available in the Library for the students. Study material available on internet is downloaded and made available for the students.
4. In case there is any long leave taken by any teacher, the administration promptly appoints guest faculty so that classes are not wasted for lack of teacher.
5. The faculty takes extra classes to complete syllabus and the administration arranges classrooms and other infrastructural support for extra classes. Sometimes extra classes are taken on Sundays and other holidays.
6. For the syllabus to be completed in time it is important that slow learners are given special attention. Remedial classes are organized for them.

2.3.11 Monitoring and evaluating the quality of teaching-learning.

Under the guidance of the Internal Quality Assessment Cell (IQAC) of the College the monitoring and evaluation of the teaching learning process is done in the following manner:

1. There is a feedback system for both teachers and students. The feedback is analyzed and necessary corrective measures are taken to improve the teaching learning process.
2. Regular test, assignments, paper presentations and viva-voce by students also help in monitoring the quality of teaching and learning.
3. The IQAC also monitors the internal assessment marks of students.
4. The Principal holds meetings with class representatives and gets feedback regarding the teaching learning process.

2.4 Teacher Quality

Qualifications of the teaching staff:

2.4.1 Recruitment / Retention of Faculty

The recruitment of teachers is done according to the University of Delhi and the UGC norms and guidelines. Vacancies are advertised and then due procedure of the University is followed for the appointment process. Eligibility criteria of teachers whether permanent, temporary, ad-hoc or guest is as per UGC norms and guidelines. The University of Delhi has to formally approve of all appointments.

2.4.2 Coping with the growing demand/ scarcity of qualified senior faculty

The College endeavors to recruit the best talents with brilliant academic records available amongst applicant teachers in the disciplines that it offers to its students. It makes special efforts to recruit teachers with specializations in newly emerging fields of study and also teachers who are willing to adopt modern methods of interdisciplinary approaches to pedagogy. The College also invites the best of the teachers and experts for special lectures for both its faculty and students.

2.4.3 Enhancement of teacher quality.

As per the University of Delhi rules, all senior faculty have to do Orientation and Refresher courses as a part of promotional requirement. The teachers apply for leave to do these courses which is duly granted. Since a large number of teachers are ad-hoc and temporary any long term program to enhance teacher quality is a challenge.

2.4.4 Policies/systems to recharge teachers.

The College mainly follows the policies and systems of the University of Delhi to recharge teachers but also takes its own initiatives. Research grants have provided by the University of Delhi through the Innovation Projects. The UGC also provides funds for travelling abroad to the scholars attending seminars and conferences. Three faculty members have availed this facility in the past three years. The College sanctions study leave to the teachers to pursue their research work. The College Administration also gives lien to teachers who seek to engage themselves in teaching outside the University of Delhi system. The policy is one of total support and facilitation to faculty engaged in recharging themselves academically.

2.4.5-6 Faculty awards and recognition and evaluation of teachers by the students and external Peers.

At present there is no one in the Faculty who has received an award or recognition for teaching. Nevertheless, there are many teachers in the College who are well known for their scholarship and delivery of lectures. These teachers are regularly called by other institution both within the University and outside to deliver lectures or act as resource persons in seminars and workshops.

The College has introduced a feedback system which has helped in assessment of the strengths of each teacher. For promotions teachers are evaluated by the Peer groups appointed by the University of Delhi for assessment, evaluation and interview.

2.5 Evaluation Process and Reforms

2.5.1- 5 Information regarding Evaluation Process and Reforms

The evaluation process set by the University of Delhi is prominently featured in the University website (du.ac.in) for each of its papers in different courses and programs. The College also informs the students and the faculty through its Handbook and website and through notices on notice boards.

Teachers inform the students about the evaluation system. Since most of the teachers of the College are engaged in the examination and evaluation process of the University of Delhi, all crucial information regarding the evaluation process is intimated to the students. Every Department decides on a uniform mode of evaluation.

The two central features of the evaluation system of the University of Delhi are the Internal Assessment (IA) and the centralized evaluation of answer scripts. The Moderation Committee of the College scrutinizes and removes discrepancies if any, in the Internal Assessment submitted by various Departments before they are finally sent to the University.

The internal assessment marks of students are put up on the website of the College. Since attendance is also a part of Internal Assessment, the attendance of each student is also put up on the website. Internal Assessment marks are submitted by individual teachers only after students have verified and signed. This process makes the system error free and transparent.

2.5.6 Graduate attributes College focuses on.

The Ramanujan College strives to inculcate in its students the vision, mission and objectives as the chief attributes of the graduates of the College. The graduates of the College are not only academically accomplished but are also endowed with skills and have a holistic all round development. They are conscientious human beings with compassion and a commitment towards nation building. The graduate attributes of the students are defined by the Principal in his address to the students at the formal Orientation ceremony at the start of the academic year. The Principal reiterates the values and attributes of the Ramanujan College graduate during the formal farewell ceremonies also.

2.5.7 Mechanisms for redressal of grievances with reference to evaluation.

The College Grievance Committee is empowered to take decisions regarding complaints about evaluation. The students are free to consult teachers to voice their grievances regarding evaluation.

Before submission the final Internal Assessment marks are reviewed by the Departments and then the College Moderation Committee. As said before the marks are sent to the University only after each student has signed his/her Internal Assessment records. If any inadvertent error happens, these are reported to the University by the College.

2.6 Student performance and learning outcomes.

2.6.1 Learning outcomes focused on by the College.

The College website clearly states the vision, mission and objectives of the institution. The staff and students are made aware of the aims of the College through Orientation Programs, Seminars and Talks. The Institution makes all efforts to provide the students opportunities to deliberate on various alternatives and make informed choices, so that they become independent, strong yet sensitive individuals with analytical abilities and innovative thinking. The focus is also on motivating the students to equip them with skills so that they are able to face the challenges of the modern world.

2.6.2 Monitoring and communicating the performance and progress of students

All the Departments individually meet the Head of the Institution to analyze the annual results every year. Our students have been performing well both in academics as well as in co-curricular activities. Apart from having merit positions in the University our students have also made a distinguished mark in other extra-curricular activities such as sports and cultural activities like theatre, music, fine arts and dance.

2.6.3 Teaching, learning and assessment strategies of the Institution.

The College provides good infrastructural facilities to optimize the achievement of the intended learning outcomes. To promote academic growth the departments organize seminars, workshops, competitions. To facilitate a holistic development of the students the College provides them opportunities to develop their talents through the different discipline associations and cultural societies and in this way the students are initiated into collaborative learning, teamwork and organizational skills. The departments organize field trips, tours, and educational excursions to give the students practical experience to establish a connection between the classroom understanding and real life situations. The report of the activities of each Department and Society is discussed and means of improvement are initiated.

2.6.4 Measures/Initiatives taken up by the institution to enhance the social and economic relevance.

The College has societies like National Service Scheme, the Eco Club O-Zone, the Centre for Ethics and Values, and the Centre for Human Rights studies, Accounting and Finance Lab, career oriented add-on certificate courses and a Placement Cell which enhance the social and economic relevance of the courses that the College offers. This is also done through creative writing competitions, co-curricular activities such as talks and seminars organized by the Departments, out-reach programs organized by societies to create social awareness, interdisciplinary, innovation research projects and internships.

2.6.5 Collection and analysis of data on student performance and learning outcomes and using it for planning and overcoming barriers of learning

Individual potential of students and their weaknesses are identified at the classroom level as well as through personal interactions by the faculty. The analysis of results of tests, tutorials, assignments and projects also helps in assessing the students' performance and progress. Analysis of these data helps in identifying individual student weakness and also the problem areas of the curriculum. Supplementary reading material and alternative teaching strategies are applied to overcome these issues.

2.6.6-7 Monitoring and ensuring the achievement of learning outcomes and use of assessment / evaluation outcomes for future planning.

The College IQAC monitors the data and the suggestions of the faculty to ensure the achievement of learning outcomes. Retests and extra assignments are often advised to improve learning outcomes of students. Remedial classes are also held. The College is aware of the fact that a class is not homogenous in ability level and therefore special attention needs to be given to some students to achieve uniform levels of performance.

The final exam results of students are markers of the achievement of the student's learning objective. A good exam result ensures better prospects both for advance learning opportunities and in getting jobs. The exam result is also indicative of the students over all academic level in terms of understanding and expression and is a guideline to the future course that the student should take.

CRITERION III

RESEARCH, CONSULTANCY AND EXTENSION

3.1 Promotion of Research

The Ramanujan College is an undergraduate college of the University of Delhi. The College promotes and encourages research for its faculty and tries to inculcate research-oriented academics in its students. The various FDPs, workshops and seminars are organized by the College to encourage faculty research. Regular paper presentations and original project work by the students are an integral part of the pedagogic process in the College.

3.1.1 Recognized research center/s of the affiliating University or any other agency/organization.

The Ramanujan College offers undergraduate courses. The College does not have recognized research center but its Departments encourages research-based academic activities. The College has been sanctioned three research based innovation projects funded by the University of Delhi in 2013-14. They are:

1. Learning Values through Community Service
2. Awareness of Consumer Rights in Contemporary India: A Comparison of Backward Area and Metropolitan City
3. Comparison of the Methodology of Dabbawala in Mumbai with Courier Company

3.1.2 Research Committee to monitor and address the issues of research.

The Research Committee of the Ramanujan College comprises of six members: the Principal and five senior teachers from different departments. The IQAC of the College and the Research Committee coordinate and take decisions regarding improvement of research-related aspects in the College. The Committee has recommended that some form of primary research should be encouraged in the form of paper/project presentation at the undergraduate level which should be supervised by the teachers. This will help to inculcate and encourage an environment of academic research among the teaching staff and the students. The Department of English has initiated research oriented activity by selecting five English (Hons.) students to write papers on various subjects under the supervision of the teachers during the academic year 2014-15.

The Department of Commerce initiated paper presentations, case studies, role plays and other methods to encourage research.

3.1.3 Measures taken by the Institution to facilitate smooth progress and implementation of research schemes/projects.

The institution facilitates smooth progress and implementation of all research-based activities by providing infrastructural support in terms of comfortable space and accessibility to the Library. Financial sanctions for research activities are processed without any undue hindrance. The teachers are given the liberty to order books related to their individual research activities. The students involved in projects and research works are also allowed to recommend required books to the Teacher-in-Charge of the Departments.

3.1.4 Efforts made by the Institution in developing scientific temper, research culture and aptitude among students.

The Ramanujan College promotes Innovation Projects and tries to meet the demands of the global market through these projects. There have been several educational and professional interfaces with the industry, both in form of interactions and visits, keeping in mind the scope of the subjects and the interest of the students. Though field work and data collection are primary to these projects, we have also realized that these projects help us in the expansion of knowledge-base and availing opportunities beyond the boundaries of the College. In this context, the experience of our students, as participants in the Gyanodaya Project of the University of Delhi, needs to be acknowledged. Our students have participated in all the six Gyanodaya Projects of the University. These educational tours in special trains aim at broadening the horizons of learning beyond the classrooms. In the last two excursions, project work was carried out by the students on 'Mizo youth perspective towards society and matrimony', 'Relevance of Article 371G' and on the 'Flora and Fauna of Northeast India'.

The Ramanujan Center for Applied Mathematics and Research in collaboration with the Departments of Statistics, Mathematics and Computer Science effectively promotes the internalization of research aptitude among its students with an aim of higher understanding, which gets reflected in their academic responses as well. The Department of Computer Science has developed software that is used for an effective planning of the College Master Time-Table. They have also developed software that helps physically challenged students. The Centre for Robotics and Artificial Intelligence has been active in designing software for robotic science.

This software will enable the visitors (students, research scholars, scientists, general public) of the Park to attain all the environmental education related to it. It will also provide a single platform to the users to get the information, instead of referring too many resources.
SOFTWARE FOR MASTER TIME TABLE FOR RAMANUJAN COLLEGE
The software generates optimized time table for the college according to the workload of classes and rooms available. The software efficiently manages the allocation process to prevent the slot redundancy of a room, teacher and class.

The entire College is ICT-enabled with Wi-Fi facility. The students and the teachers have been equipped with personal laptops, which have helped the pedagogy at classroom level to touch higher level of research-based teachings. With information and knowledge accessibility at one's finger tips, the classroom interaction breaks conventional boundaries and helps the students in seeking and expressing deeper research based understandings.

- 3.1.9 Percentage of the faculty that has utilized sabbatical leave for research activities and contribution for the improvement of the quality of research culture on the campus.

As per the rules of the University of Delhi, not more than ten percent of the total faculty is allowed to be on leave for research study at the same time. The faculty members who have completed their research, availing of duly granted study leave, rejoins the College as an expert in the area of his research with cutting edge knowledge that certainly helps in encouraging the students and colleagues with refresh and rigorous ideas. This brings a new dynamism to the on-going pedagogy in the College. The following teachers have availed of the facility of study leave to pursue research:

TABLE 3.5

3.1.10 Initiatives taken up by the Institution in creating awareness/advocating/transfer of relative findings of research of the Institution and elsewhere to students and community (lab to land).

The teachers transmit research analysis and research interests in the day to day classroom pedagogic practices. They make the students aware of the ongoing research level activities in a particular field and discipline. The classroom interaction is enriched by such inputs and the students get first-hand information. The fact, that many B.Com (Hons.) students have involved themselves in the projects and assignments related to global finance is because of the research interests that many teachers of the Department of Commerce have in the area of Finance. Similarly, due to the research interests of the teachers in film studies and media, many humanities students have engaged in project work related to cinema.

3.2 Resource Mobilization for Research

3.2.1-2 Percentage of the total budget earmarked for research.

Since the Ramanujan College works under the aegis of the University of Delhi, it does not have any such provision of budget being earmarked and therefore relies on the University and the UGC funding for research based activities. In the General Development Assistance Scheme, during the XIIth Plan Period, 11.4% of total grant sanctioned by the UGC is for Educational Innovation purposes. Another 9% is sanctioned for Field Work and Study Tours. The College has also received financial grants from the University of Delhi for research-based Innovation Projects that were sanctioned to it. We also seek and receive sponsorships from banks and other institutions for our research-based activities.

3.2.3 Financial provisions made available to support research projects by students.

Innovative projects involves students' research are funded by the University of Delhi. Some student research projects are funded directly by the College via UGC funds (The details are given in 3.2.1)

In the year 2012, the University of Delhi started a scheme to support inter-disciplinary Innovation Projects for the students. Three projects of the College got a total grant of Rs.10 lakhs. This grant had a provision not only for equipment purchase, travel, printing expenses, but also for a stipend of Rs. 1,000 per month to each student working on the projects.

Mr. Rohan Rawat, a first year student of Psychology (Hons.), was awarded the half major scholarship from the International Committee for Adlerian Summer School and Institutes, University of Kent, Canterbury, UK. The College supported Rohan by funding him the other half of the scholarship money.

The Gyanodaya Program, started by University of Delhi, was another effort where students were provided with funds for field research.

3.2. Inter-disciplinary research in the Institution.

The College, on a regular basis, engages the Departments in inter-disciplinary dialogues. The motive is not only to bring the Departments together but also to focus on providing a comfortable academic environment to the students with humble academic background. This section of students learn through listening to debates, discussions and various other interactive sessions claiming themselves to be the prospective research force.

The interactive sessions and other inter-disciplinary research undertakings are as follows:

- Joint workshops between the Department of Commerce and the Department of Computer Science.

- FDPs were organized by the Department of Commerce along with the Department of Economics and Statistics.
- The Department of Mathematics and the Department of Commerce jointly organized workshop.
- The Department of Mathematics organized a festival where all the students and teachers were invited to participate in interesting mathematics-related activities.

The teacher representatives from various Departments have participated in the Gyanodaya Project of the University of Delhi. The ensuing inter-disciplinary nature of the experience and the analysis has been valuable.

As an inter-disciplinary initiative the Department of English invited faculty from the Department of History to make a presentation at the UGC-sponsored National seminar on 'Contemporary Narratives of Subversions' 20-21 March 2015.

3.2.5 The Institution ensures optimal use of various equipment and research facilities available to its staff and students.

The Ramanujan College ensures that the teachers as well as the students have an easy access to the equipments needed as teaching aids. The classrooms are well equipped with the latest audio-video technologies and Wi-Fi.

- The library and the computer lab are in the same building (first and ground floor respectively) for easy and quick access, and references, thereby saving time.
- The students have access to e-journals like Jstor, EPW and Sage publications.
- OPAC helps the students and teachers to quickly go through the list of books available, thus, saving time.
- Time-tables are designed for the optimal use of classrooms and also adjusted according to the specific needs of the Departments, leaving time for the teachers to pursue research work.

3.2.6 Special grants or finances from the industry or other beneficiary agency for developing research facility.

The College receives all its grants from the UGC and the University of Delhi. It has so far not received any financial grants from the industry for its projects.

3.2.7 Support provided to the faculty in securing research funds from various funding agencies, industry and other organizations.

TABLE 3.6

Nature of the Project	Duration	Title of the project	Name of the funding agency	Total Grant		Total grant received till date

3.3 Research Facilities

3.3.1 Research facilities available to the students and research scholars within the Campus.

The College ensures an easy access to technology and provides a comfortable atmosphere for facilitating research and academic pursuits for its students and teachers:

- We have Online Public Access Catalogue (OPAC). An assistant has been appointed for helping the students and teachers for all library-related work.
- As a constituent College of the University of Delhi, we have access to the facilities of Electronic Resource Management Package for e-Journals through DULS (Delhi University Library System).
- The College has two federated search engine facilities provided through DULS. The first one is UGC INFONET federated search engine, JCCC, and the second one is the search engine of DULS, KNIMBUS.
- The College library has a collection of about 30,000 books. The library also subscribes to twenty eight journals across various disciplines. The library provides internet access, printing, photocopying facility and reference service.
- The library has air conditioned reading-rooms which can accommodate 150 students and faculty members at a time. It also has a comfortable Reference Section lounge for teachers.

3.3.2 Institutional strategies for planning, upgrading and creating infrastructural facilities to meet the needs of the researchers.

The Ramanujan College has been taking essential steps towards innovation and upgradation of the infrastructural facilities keeping in mind the research interests of the scholars and students.

- The College Library Committee keeps on upgrading the quality of the book collection by adding books recommended by the faculty every year.
- Similarly, the focus is on enhancing library resources like better internet connectivity and accessibility, more e-journals, a larger reading room and an updated catalogue.
- The College is in the process of introducing new courses like Journalism Honours, Philosophy Honours and History Honours with the intention of providing an inter-disciplinary faculty that would act as an intellectual resource bank for giving impetus to the research activity.
- The Centre for Robotics and Artificial Intelligence, the Mathematic Lab and the Media Lab also act as infrastructural support for inter-disciplinary research.
- The College has provided laptops to all its teachers and given round the clock W-Fi connectivity with the intension of helping the faculty to engage in academic pursuits without any hindrance. In future, when the College will be able to construct its own building, the faculty will have greater infrastructural support for research.

3.3.3 Special grants or finances from the industry or other beneficiary agency for developing research facilities.

In 2009, ASSOCHM partly funded a seminar on 'Higher Education' in which many well-researched academic papers on various aspects of Higher Education were presented.

With the introduction of new courses in the near future, the College looks forward to more inter-disciplinary projects and would be approaching the industry and outside agencies for financial support.

3.3.4-5 The research facilities available to the students and research scholars in the library

Generally, a representative of the publishers/suppliers contacts the teachers with the new titles and gets their recommendation for purchase of a particular publication. The Librarian after inquiring the titles in the holdings of the library orders for the purchase of the recommended publication. Sometimes, faculties are invited in book exhibitions. They select the books for purchase and the Librarian orders the titles for the supply. The Magazines/Journals are selected and deselected for subscription to the Library every year in the Library Committee meeting.

The figures purchase of Books and Journals in the library in the last four years is as follows:

TABLE 3.7

The Ramanujan College provides searching service of library collection through OPAC. The LibSys software provides the OPAC module in the software package. The College library has an infrastructure to access the in-house and remote e-publications of the University of Delhi and other subscribed resources availed to by the University of Delhi. The library provides two computers for public access; one is for OPAC and other is for accessing e-resources. The library provides facility for computer printouts for research purposes. The internet speed is about 10 mbps. Presently, the College does not have any Institutional Repository but the University of Delhi provides access to e-print Archives and the teachers have the facilities to deposit their articles and papers in the above repository.

3.3.6 Collaborative researches facilities developed/ created by the research institutes in the College

The College has in the past four years developed the following facilities for research and advanced learning:

1. Accounting and Finance Laboratory

3.5 Consultancy

3.5.1 Give details of the systems and strategies for establishing institute-industry interface?

The College takes special care to provide favourable conditions for institution-industry interface to help the students to understand the demands and requirement of the globalising professional world.

The institution-industry interface is handled by the Placement Cell of the College. The Placement Cell Committee gets in touch with the industry, keeping in mind the orientation of the students. The Committee then invites leading industrialists and professionals, organizes lectures, workshops, talks, seminars and training programmes across disciplines. Some of the best talents of the College have got placed in many companies of good repute.

3.5.2-5 Institutional promotion of promote consultancy.

The College is not directly involved in consultancy, but it encourages the faculty to provide their expertise in consultancy to outside agencies. The College keeps record of the individual teachers engaged in such activities. These records are placed at the time of teachers' promotion and other career advancement opportunities. As an undergraduate College pursuing mainly Commerce and Humanities courses, the Ramanujan College is not engaged in any income-generating consultancy.

3.6 Extension Activities and Institutional Social Responsibility (ISR)

3.6.1 Promote institution-neighborhood-community network and student engagement, contributing to good citizenship, service orientation and holistic development of the students.

In the year 2010, the Centre for Ethics and Values was set up precisely with the intension of promoting good citizenship, service orientation and holistic development of the students. The Centre organizes many inter-disciplinary programs that help in the objective of promoting the idea of morality and ethics in public life, which is essential for good citizenship. To promote and instill the idea of social responsibility among the students, the College engages in a large number of activities through its different societies, NSS and NCC. This infuses solidarity among the students to work for each other in groups and also understand the value of individual responsibilities. Ramanujan College has developed and maintained cordial relationships with the nearby Colleges and Universities. Lady Sri Ram College, Acharya Narendra Dev College and Shaheed Bhagat Singh College, all constituent colleges of the University of Delhi are neighboring colleges. The University of Jamia Millia Islamia is also in the neighborhood. These institutions come together during the events like cultural festival, workshops, seminars and other interactive sessions.

3.6.2 Institutional mechanism to track students' involvement in various social movements/activities which promotes the role of citizenship.

The College has institutionalized ways to encourage students' involvement in social movements/activities by constituting the following societies/centres/committees promoting social and citizenship roles:

1. The Centre for Ethics and Values plays a crucial role in generating moral awareness amongst students. The Centre has been working on two innovation projects namely, 'Comparison of Methodology of the Mumbai Dabbawalas and Courier Company' and 'Awareness of Consumer Rights in Contemporary India – A Comparative Study of Backward Areas and Metropolitan Cities.' These projects have helped the students in understanding the necessity of humanity in the age of globalization.
2. The National Service Scheme (NSS) handles the task of social mobility and community service through organising activities like Blood Donation Camp, Health Checkup Camp, Safai Abhiyaan, Tree Plantation, Zero Hunger Campaign. The NSS also collected donation for Kashmiri Relief Camp at Shastri Park. The Reports submitted by the student members, after every event, helps the NSS analyze the contemporary needs of the society. The enthusiastic volunteers of the NSS help the College manage its major functions. They are very active during the days of admissions, the Annual Day, the Sports Day and the Foundation Day. They undertake the responsibilities given to them with dedication and sincerity.

3. The students of the National Cadet Corps (NCC) receive training regularly and participate in various intra-college and inter-college activities. They have won many prizes in drill and guard-of-honor competitions. Students of the College have also represented the NCC in the march-past on the Republic Day.
4. The College has introduced the UGC-sponsored Course on Human Rights with the sole objective of introducing undergraduate students, pursuing studies in various disciplines, to the basic concepts and practices of human rights and duties. The course familiarizes the students with the fundamentals of national and international instruments (treaties/conventions) and mechanisms for the promotion and protection of human rights. It also introduces them to some of the national and global debates on human rights.
5. The theatre group, Jazba, reflects awareness about social issues through their productions and presentations. Their street play Bhookh (Hunger) won the 'Sahitya Parishad Award' for the best street theatre in an inter-college competition organized by it.
6. The music group Shivranjani's rendering of bhajans and sufi songs are based on themes of peace, love and brotherhood among the humanity.
7. The film appreciation society, First Cut, also focuses on making films with social messages. Their recent film, Khudiram, not only won acclaim across the University and bagged many prizes, was on the theme of eve teasing and women rights.
8. The Dance Nucleic Acid (DNA), our dance group, is very active and choreographs many interesting group dance compositions that have won many prizes in inter-college competitions.
9. The debating society, Tark, voices the socio-political and economic concerns of the society and encourages the students to vociferously argue regarding the various issues surrounding them.
10. The eco-club (O-ZONE) of the College is in the forefront of socially-relevant activities with their constant focus on environment protection. They have organized Plantation Drive and Cleanliness Drive in an effort to inculcate among the students the importance of a clean environment and the need for its protection. They organize competitions where colleges across the university are invited. Recently, they organized a poster making competition of the theme of Global Warming. An inter-college competition on Environmental issues was organized, which highlighted the following themes: wastage of resources – water, electricity, food; pollution; health and hygiene; Yamuna cleaning programme; innovative ways of waste disposal in Delhi; problem of food adulteration; global warming and efficient waste management techniques. The College, in coordination with the eco-club, is planning to set up water harvesting plant and recycling of bio-waste plant in the College. The project is in its planning stage and will soon be implemented.

3.6.3 Stakeholder's perception on the overall performance and quality of the institution.

The Ramanujan College, while functioning as Deshbandhu College (Evening), had the objective of catering to the demands of already employed students desiring higher education. It earned the reputation of a good institution. Today, as Ramanujan College, the perception about the College by its stake holders and others in the society has changed into a fast-growing aspiring institution. Feedback from teachers, both present and retired, students, parents and the alumni, suggests that the college is being rated high in the quality of its deliverance of its objectives. There is an overall perception that the College will soon emerge as a top rated college of the University of Delhi once it is able to construct its own building and infrastructure. The fact that the College was awarded prizes in the University of Delhi festival, Antardhvani, for the past two years, has also helped in raising the perception of the College as a quality institution.

3.6.4-5 Institutional plan and organization of its extension and outreach programmes and the participation of students and faculty in extension activities.

In the past five years, the College has constituted a number societies and centres. Though the participation in extension activities is voluntary, there is great enthusiasm among the students and faculty to make the activities of the societies very successful. Often the initiative and the idea comes from the students themselves and the faculty then takes the necessary steps to concretize the programme. Most of the cultural societies are nurtured by the Staff Council and the Cultural Committee. The sports-related activities and the NCC are the responsibilities of the Department of Physical Education and Sport Sciences. Individual teachers are the Conveners of the Societies.

The activities of the Societies range from organising festivals, competitions, debates, movie screenings, interactive lectures and workshops with experts and eminent speakers, to name a few.

3.6.6 Work undertaken by the College to ensure social justice and empower students from under-privileged and vulnerable sections of society.

The College has undertaken various steps to ensure that it contributes to the society in any possible manner. For instance, it provides financial assistance under fee concession schemes. All the Departments in the College identify the names of the students and recommend the same to the College authorities for fee concession. After scrutinizing, the eligible students are provided with financial assistance. Besides this, the College also provides remedial classes and has a scheme of book lending.

Alumni scholarship is another area where the College gives awards to the meritorious but needy students.

The students are also involved in exploring various aspects of the society. The aim is to bring sensitization about the under-privileged groups in the society and look for ways to rehabilitate them by providing the basic amenities like clothes, food and books.

3.6.7-9 Objectives and expected outcomes of the extension activities organized by the institution.

The objectives of the extension activities are to provide field experience and sensitise the students to the harsh realities of society, thereby, inculcating a sense of social responsibility and justice. A large number of students (about 50%) of the college belong to the economically weaker sections of the society and, thus, through its extension activities, the College reaches out to the under-privileged section and try to make a difference in their lives.

Ramanujan College organised a ten-day International Workshop on Skill Development – Journalism Education Seminar - for Afghan University professors in collaboration with the University of Nebraska and financed by the UNO at the University of Delhi from 29th December to 8th January 2014.

The NSS unit of the College along with the Centre for Ethics and Values handles the task of social mobility and community service through its various activities. They have organized community cleanliness programs as well as a unique programme of 'Joy of Giving Week' – Daan Utsav in 2014. The nobility in the act of giving was celebrated in this event through Gyan Daan, in which students taught children from the neighboring areas; Pushtika Daan, in which students donated books and note books to needy children; and Mudra Daan, where money and articles were collected for distribution among poor. This was an exceptional way to instill a conscientious heart and mind for the students and faculty who participated in the programme.

3.6.10 Give details of the awards received by the Institution for extension activities and/contributions to the social/community development during the last four years.

The students involved in the dramatics society, Jazba, and the film appreciation society, First Cut, contribute to social and community development by raising issues that are socially relevant in a creative and innovative manner. They have won acclaim and prizes for their productions. Jazba's play, on the issue of hunger, and First Cut's film, dealing with women empowerment, have been impactful. Both the productions have been extensively presented at various forums and large audiences have appreciated their efforts. The College encourages such activities that sensitize students to issues of social uplift and empowerment.

- The College also provides required space for inter-college competitions and events such as activity rooms, auditorium, ground etc.
- Three Staffrooms, Girls Common Room, Gymnasium and Sports Room.

Till 2008, the College had been functioning as an evening college. Most of the facilities/infrastructure was shared with the Deshbandhu College, except the administrative block which was separate for our College from the beginning.

The library, the classrooms and the laboratories were common for both the Colleges. After 2008, the College's Governing Body thought of creating a separate entity and named it Ramanujan College. It started developing its infrastructural facilities for promoting the academic growth of its students.

The College started by separating its library from that of the Deshbandhu College's. We created our own library with state-of-the-art air conditioned reading room, and adding more books and journals in the library. We have also renovated the space which was allocated to us for the library.

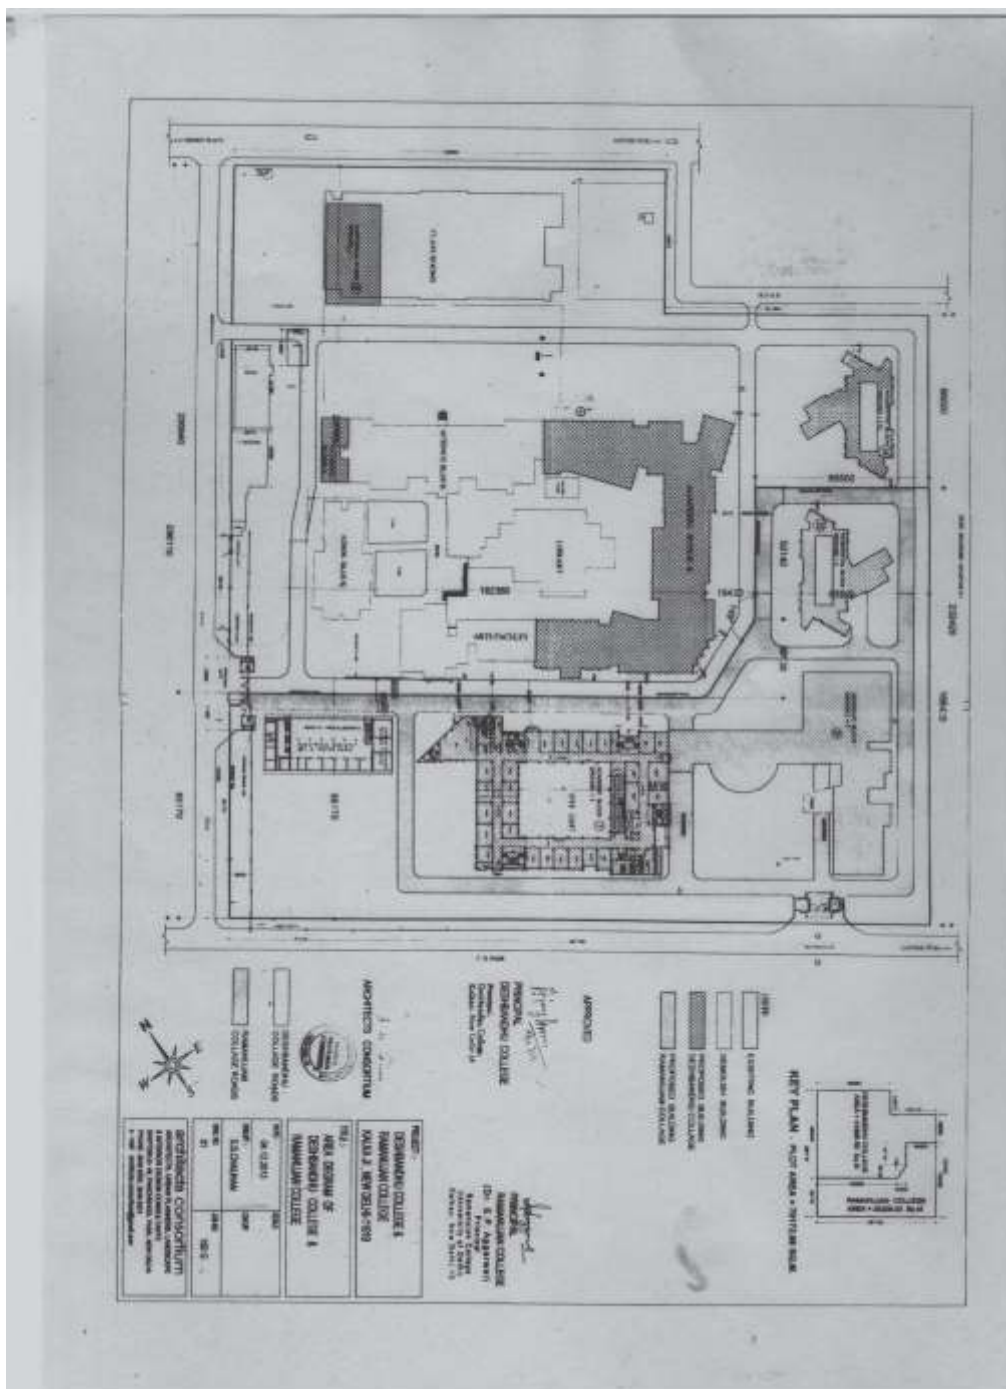

We further renovated the hall-cum-auditorium, which was abandoned by the Deshbandhu College. Later, the Governing Body approved the installing of air conditioners in the Auditorium. Two porta-cabins (in the Old Block) were also constructed for our exclusive use as classrooms in the year 2010. We also got two rooms which are now used for the Centre for Robotics and Artificial Intelligence and NAAC room. After 2010, we developed state-of-the-art Computer labs, in addition to a room for the Centre for Ethics and Values.

In 2010, we were further allocated seven acres of land and we started the process of getting approvals from the relevant agencies. We also renovated our Administrative Block, three staff rooms, and created a separate reading room for teachers in the Library. We have added six washrooms both for boys and girls and also renovated all the old ones. Adequate arrangements for water availability have been made and special attention has been paid to drinking water facilities. Arrangements for rain water harvesting have also been made along with the setting up of a Compost Plant. There is a canteen for our students and beautiful lawns and gardens in front of the porta-cabin block. We have also created a 400 m athletic track in our playground.

We have tied up with a sports academy to train our students in various sports activities. A Ranji Trophy player has been recruited as the Coach of our cricket team. We have developed practice pitch for cricket.

As regards to our future expansion, the master plan of our institution includes Academic Block, student facility centre with provision for a canteen, bank, indoor games, gym and common room for both boys and girls. There is in the design, plans for a large Library, Lecture Theatre Block and a Hostel Block for both boys and girls. We have been promised financial assistance by the University of Delhi. Funding from the UGC and as well as the MHRD is awaited. The project work for construction of the new building has already been assigned to RITES. The tender documents for the Academic Block are ready and we are hopeful that construction will start in the next academic year. The drawing of the plans are given in Table 4.3.

5.3.3 Data and feedback from the graduates and employers to improve the performance and quality of the institutional provisions.

We mail the feedback forms to the registered alumni and also distribute them during the annual alumni meet. A summary report is made after thorough analysis of these feedback forms. Based on the Report, actions are taken to improve the performance of the College.

5.3.4 Involvement and encouragement given to the students to publish materials like catalogues, wall magazines, college magazine, and other material.

The College's annual magazine Alok Tirtha is a collage of ideas and expressions. A team of students and teacher editors assemble articles, poems, journey reports and reports of sports and various societies written by the students, teachers and non-teaching staff in three different languages: Hindi, English and Punjabi.

Wall magazines are also an important part of the College. Many departments have their own wall on which students paste their articles, cartoons, newspapers and magazine cuttings. The Wall of Democracy is always vibrant and colorful with the contributions provided by the students.

This year, the Media Cell of the College has started bringing out a quarterly newspaper known as Ramanujan College Quarterly. Some departments like Political Science and Hindi have published their newsletters named the Political Express and the Ramanujan Times respectively.

During the Antardhvani 2014 and 2015, the students showcased their creative ability and displayed many collages and newsletters to capture the activities of the College.

5.3.5 Students' Union

The students are an important part of the College. Their participation and representation at different levels are significant. The Students' Union is the most important body representing all the students of the College. The student representatives work as office bearers and members in the Students' Union, which works for the general interest and the welfare of all the College students. It brings grievances and the problem of the students into the notice of the appropriate authorities and organizes various activities including fresher's party, farewell, educational trips, students' welfare programmes and cultural activities.

The College has students Union affiliated to its parent body, Delhi University Students' Union (DUSU). Every year students' union elections are being held to elect 6 office bearers:

- a) President
- b) Vice-President
- c) Secretary
- d) Joint-Secretary
- e) Two central counselors

The central counselors are elected to represent the College students at DUSU.

The Students' Union is constituted and functions on the guidelines laid by the University of Delhi. Some additional guidelines are annually framed by the College's Students' Union Advisory Committee to ensure smooth working. The Union fund is annually collected from the students of the College. A sum of Rs. 500 is collected as a part of student's fees. A nominal amount of this fund is sent to DUSU and Student's Welfare Fund of the University.

The office bearers for the current academic year (2014-15) are the following:

5.3.7 Institutional network and collaboration with the alumni and former faculty of the Institution.

Every two years, two teachers of the College are made in-charge of the Alumni Association to collaborate with the alumni. The College and the Alumni Association together annually organize the Alumni Meet where all the teachers and alumni interact with each other. The Alumni have always been helping the College by providing services in the area of their specialization. Anurag Dass Mathur, who is the founder team leader of Jazba, still contributes in various activities of the theatre society, to champion the spirit of the students.

Former Faculty of the college who have been in touch with the College include:

- Prof. Y.P. Singh (Former member of the Department of Commerce of the College; Retd. Head, Department of Commerce, University of Delhi).
- Shri T.C. Ghai (Former member of the Department of English, Ramanujan College)
- Dr. B.K. Bhattacharya (Former Principal of the College)
- Prof. R.C. Kuhad (Former OSD/Principal of the College; now the Vice Chancellor, Central University of Haryana)
- CA Amarjeet Chopra (Former member of the Department of Commerce; Former President of ICAI)

CRITERION VI GOVERNANCE, LEADERSHIP AND MANAGEMENT

6.1 Institutional Vision and Leadership

6.1.1 The vision and mission of the Institution, its traditions and value orientations in addressing the needs of the society.

The mission of the Ramanujan College is to contribute towards nation building by providing every opportunity to its students and teachers. It is necessary for an ethical and moral value-based self-development required to meet the challenges of the modern world. The leadership and management of the College endeavours to continuously equip the students with a mature mind and heart, capable of critical thinking, innovation and experimentation, which will enable them to become leaders in a transforming society. The Governing Body of the College is extremely supportive of any infrastructural requirement and proposal for all academic projects. In the year 2010, the College set up the Centre for Ethics and Values, which became the core Centre for an integrated approach towards a value based education system that the College intended to pursue.

6.1.2 The role of the top management, the Principal and faculty in design and implementation of its quality policy and plans.

As a constituent College of the University of Delhi, the College's Governing Body members along with the Principal (Member Secretary of the Governing Body) and the teacher representatives, charts down the following ways to implement the University's quality plans in conjunction with the College's own plans for development and expansion:

- The Principal, as the Chairperson of the Staff Council, leads the various Staff Council-constituted committees which look after the qualitative and quantitative aspects of the College. The Principal ensures that the members of the Staff Council are collectively involved and responsible for the College.
- IQAC: An Internal Quality Assurance Cell has been put in place in 2013. The central task of the IQAC was to structure out the parameters for evaluation of the academic standards of the College. In the first meeting, the members decided to deploy a feedback system for both the students and staff of the College. Subsequently, the IQAC has been monitoring academic performances and making policy decisions regarding the formation of more efficient time-tables and effective evaluation systems for internal assessments. Decisions regarding the admission process, academic coordination between different departments, conducting the examinations and promotion of research and extension activities have also been taken.
- The Principal and the Governing Body members have been persistent in their efforts to enhance the quality of the College. The Principal and the Governing Body members deliberate on the issue of the Placement Cell, the College building, effective teaching methods, on-going and upcoming research projects and activities, budgetary allocation and sanctioning of finance, admissions, implementation of the University guideline.

6.1.3 Involvement of the leadership in ensuring, formulation of action plans and interaction with the stakeholders to ensure culture of excellence.

Since the College has been renamed Ramanujan College from Deshbandhu College (Evening) in 2010 and became a full-fledged morning College, the vision-mission and the policy statement has undergone a major change. The College has sought to expand itself and avail the new opportunities of a globalizing world by offering more course and programs which have contemporary value. At the same time, the College also gives a serious thought to the socio-cultural dimension of the students and wishes to provide a holistic educational platform to them. It attempts to provide the teaching faculty with the best opportunities for self-development. Such a vision and mission could be transformed into reality with two prompt approaches in the policies that the College follows. Firstly, huge investments, both in terms of finance and planning, are being done for the improvement of the infrastructure. Secondly, a focused analysis of the curriculum is helping to create inter-disciplinary, creative and innovative approaches to pedagogy. The College keeps in mind its chief stakeholders: the students, the teaching faculty, the University, the parents, the public and private sector outside the Institution, and society at large, in its endeavor to create an educational institute of high academic standards and excellence.

The Governing Body and the Principal who have provided the leadership for the introduction of high value courses like Computer Science, Mathematics, Economics, Psychology and Statistics in 2013 is in response to the informal feedback taht the College received from the students, their parents and the institutions in the private and public sectors.

6.1.4 The procedures that have been adopted from time to time by the Institution to monitor and evaluate its policies and plans for effective implementation and improvement.

The main procedure followed by the College is to report the implementation of all the policy decisions by the Principal to the Governing Body. The Governing Body is empowered to evaluate the performance of the College and take necessary actions. As the head of the institution, the Principal is the Chairperson of the Staff Council, which is statutory body under the ordinance of the University of Delhi and is entrusted to oversee the functioning of the College and the implementation of the Governing Body policies. The Staff Council makes a number of committees and sub-committees that are the in-charge of various aspects of the day-today running of the College. Some of the important committees of the Staff Council are: the Admission Committee, the Exam Committee, the Time-Table Committee, the Work Load Committee, the Discipline Committee, the Sports Committee, the Cultural Committee, the Infrastructure Committee, the Maintenance and Supervision Committee, the Placement Cell, the Purchase, Stock Disposal and Stock Verification Committee, and the IT Infrastructure Committee. The College has recently taken the ISO 9001:2008 for Office Procedure.

6.1.5 Academic leadership provided to the faculty by the top management.

Since the Governing Body of the Ramanujan College is constituted by the University of Delhi, the appointed Chairman of the Governing Body have been an academic of merit and excellence. The members of the Governing Body are also generally academicians from the University of Delhi. Many of them have high reputation and are pillars of academic excellence. The College feels proud and is inspired by the achievements of such members leading the Institution.

1. Prof. P.B. Mangla (Dean and Former Professor, Department of Library Science, University of Delhi)
2. Prof. M.G.K. Menon (Imminent Scientist and former Education Minister, Science Advisor to the Prime Minister)
3. Mr. B. K. Goswami (Former Civil Servant, Chief Secretary of Jammu and Kashmir)
4. Mr. P.K. Kaul (Former Civil Servant and Ambassador of India to USA)
5. Dr. Bala Bawa (Former, Principal Maharaja Agrasen College and Professor in Department of Botany, University of Delhi)
6. Dr. Brij Kishore Sharma, the present Chairman of the Governing Body (Retired Addition Secretary, Government of India, imminent scholar, administrator and expert in jurisprudence)

6.1.6 The development of Leadership at different levels in the institution.

The College administration believes that the proper functioning of an institution can be attained through well-executed and administered hierarchy. The College, at the levels of teaching, non-teaching (both permanent and contractual) and students has instituted an efficient management system.

- The top Management has assigned powers and roles to various committees of the College constituted in the Staff Council meetings. The Governing Body, along with the Principal of the College, as its Member Secretary, promotes democratic work environment helping the Staff Council members in staging and strengthening their voices.
- The Governing Body sometimes also exercises exclusive rights on some important issues like infrastructure and finance in the presence of the Principal and two teacher representatives.
- At the level of teaching faculty, the Staff Council plays a very significant role. It acts as a mediator and catalyst between the Management and the students to execute various plans decided and assigned to the various Staff Council committees.
- The Principal encourages the Staff Council members to take up the convener-ship of various committees and also be the in-charge of various functions.
- Non-teaching faculty are encouraged (library and administration) to take up various administrative assignments and are encouraged to bring in new approaches to the functioning of the Committees. They are also given responsibilities to conduct various programs of the College.

- The Principal encourages the students, through the Students' Union of the College which, in turn, supports the College, in its efficient functioning by directly voicing the requirements of the students.

6.1.6 The delegation of authority and operational autonomy to the Departments for decentralized governance.

The University of Delhi ordinances regarding the governance of the College guide the democratic methods of transacting the day-to-day institutional affairs. At the core of this decentralized process, is the statutory Staff Council in which the entire teaching faculty, are the members. The constitution of various committees and the delegation of authority and responsibilities to the members and Conveners of the various committees ensure a decentralized method of functioning. The committees are constituted by a democratic process of election. The Staff Council has a Secretary who coordinates the activities of the Committees. The Committees are responsible to plan out the annual program and propose the budget accordingly. This method of College functioning, ensures a holistic participation of all its members and also allows for multiple and varied ideas which enrich the growth of the College.

6.1.7 Promoting the culture of participative management.

The College, as a constituent College of the University of Delhi, follows the statutes of the University and ensures the efficient implementation of the rules and regulations of the University of Delhi. The statutes allow for a participative management in the College affairs.

- There are two Teacher Representatives in the Governing Body on rotational basis; one is from senior faculty and the other from junior faculty.
- The Bursar's post is rotational and appointments are made by the Governing Body on the recommendation of the Principal.
- The Vice Principal's post is an open post for the teachers of the College and the appointment is done after a selection process by the Governing Body.
- The post of the Head of the Department is rotational.
- The Student representatives of the Students' Union, who are elected by the students of the College, also help the College Principal in its management.
- Often, the Administrative Officer of the College, both from the Sections of Academics and Accounts are made part of important decision making committees.

6.2 Strategy Development and Deployment

6.2.1 The Institution's stated quality policy.

The formally stated quality policy is determined by the University of Delhi in its calendar comprising of Ordinances and the governance of the College. The primary responsibility of the University of Delhi constituted Governing Body of the College is to ensure that the University stated policy of quality is maintained in the governance of the College.

Many of the academic quality policies are framed by the Staff Council. The academic quality policy of the College is implemented through various committees of the Staff Council which are monitored by the Principal.

Since the inception of the IQAC, the quality policies are not only being framed by the IQAC but also the implementations are monitored by the same body.

6.2.2 The perspective plan for development.

The College infrastructure and academic expansion has been planned and approved. The essential sanctions have been obtained for the same. The perspective is to provide the best of the infrastructure for an academic expansion towards higher inter-disciplinary research.

With the new building and other infrastructure in place the College will provide students, a learning environment that will be conducive to creative and innovative approaches to academics. The College seeks to attract talent and the best of minds from across the Country and a large hostel for both girls and boys is an important part of our plans. The hostel will facilitate students seeking admission from remote parts of the Country, particularly from the states of North East. The College will also have a larger number of women students to benefit from this expansion.

This perspective also includes a greater interaction with the industries and other beneficiary agencies. The College wishes to tie up with the industry and research agencies to work on common projects.

We have already started new courses in science and humanities and have sought approval for some more new courses with the view of greater interaction with the industry and the demands of the changing socio-economic scenario. The College seeks to develop itself into a hub of inter-disciplinary studies where research and skill development will form the fundamental structure. We have applied to the UGC for eight proposed programmes under the Deen Dayal Upadhyaya Centres for Knowledge Acquisition and Upgradation of Skilled Human Abilities and Livelihood (KAUSHAL) scheme.

The future vision also includes the development of skills of our non-teaching staff, through training and skill enhancement programmes, for their personal and professional growth.

6.2.3 The internal organizational structure and decision making processes.

Other than the Governing Body of the College, the decisions regarding the governance of the College are taken at the level of the Staff Council and its constituent committees. Decisions are also taken by the Committees that are constituted by the Principal directly. The implementations of the decisions are done in coordination with the Principal, the Staff Council Committees and the non-teaching staff. The activities of the Committees are reported at the Staff Council meetings and assessments are made.

6.2.4 The quality improvement strategies of the institution:

- Teaching and Learning: A well-formulated and planned Faculty Development Program has been put in place as a strategy for quality improvement. The teachers are encouraged to participate in Refresher Courses and Orientation Courses that are being conducted by the Academic Staff College of various universities in India. All classrooms are IT-enabled for the improvement of teaching and learning. ICT training programs are arranged for the faculty.
- Research and Development: As Research incentive, the teachers are allowed to recommend and purchase books for the library which can also be used for individual research.
- The College has collaboration with the Microsoft which provides the researcher with research-oriented software.
- Human Resource: The augmentation of human resource and training is done not only at the College level but also with decentralization of work, allocation of responsibility to a large number of teachers, providing them support at professional and career levels. There is also a conscious effort on the part of the Management to spot specific talents amongst the teaching faculty and encourage their further growth.
- Industry Interaction: Our College has started the Centre for Entrepreneurship in 2008-09 and has tied-up with the National Institute for Entrepreneurship and Small Business Development (NIESBUD) (An Autonomous Organization of the Ministry of Micro Small & Medium Enterprises), Noida since 2011. The Centre for Entrepreneurship in association with the National Institute for Entrepreneurship and Small Business Development (NIESBUD), National Small Industries Corporation (NSIC) and ASSOCHAM has trained more than 500 students.

6.2.5 Adequate information to review the activities of the Institution.

The Principal is responsible for all the important information being reported to the Governing Body as well as the University. These are in the form of minutes of meetings, budgets, purchases made, creation of infrastructure, assessment of result, appointments and profiles of the teachers, and any other information as required by the University of Delhi. Most of the College activities are also highlighted in the Annual Report of the College which is reviewed by the Governing Body. Assessments are done through the self-assessment proforma of the University of Delhi for the purpose of promotions. The teachers upgrade, from time to time, their academic profile in the records of the College. The teachers are encouraged to place their publications in the College Library.

6.2.6 Encouragement, support and involvement of the staff in improving the effectiveness and efficiency of the institutional processes.

The administration of the College encourages and invites the participation from the faculty. The Governing Body of the College encourages a democratic environment which is reflected in the functioning of the Staff Council. The Staff Council Committees take necessary actions required for the efficient functioning of the College. The Committees are formed keeping in mind the academic, extra- and co-curricular activities of the students. Though there are some issues that come directly under the purview of the Governing Body, it is the Staff Council and its Committees, under the Chairmanship of the Principal, which is authorized to take decisions and plan action about most of the matters of the College.

6.2.7 The resolutions made by the Governing Body 2013-2014 and their implementation.

The following are some of the important resolutions/decisions/approvals of the Governing Body of the College taken during the year 2013-14 and implemented:

- Approval of signing of Agreement with M/s RITES Ltd. for project management consultancy services to construct a new College building.
- Approval of estimates and work of construction of porta-cabins under OBC Expansion Grant.
- Constituted a committee for the appointment of the Vice Principal of the College and approved the appointment after the selection.
- Approved of the proposed new courses to be introduced in the College.

All these have been implemented punctually and effectively.

6.2.8 The autonomy of an affiliated institution.

The Ramanujan College and its Governing Body has not deliberated on this matter as the present focus is on the construction of the building and the expansion of the College as a premier institution of inter-disciplinary academics and research.

6.2.9 The mechanism to address grievances and complaints.

The Staff Council has constituted the Grievance Committee which looks after the grievances/complaints of the members/stakeholders of the College. The College is also bound by the Right to Information Act and has constituted an office of the Public Information Officer to act promptly on any RTI applications. The names and phone numbers of the assigned in-charges are displayed on the notice boards.

6.2.10 The court cases filed by and against the Institution.

There are nine matters pending before the Honorable High Court of Delhi pertaining to the employees of our College. They are mainly regarding the conversion of CPF to GPF and one case of pay parity.

6.2.11 The mechanism for analyzing student feedback.

Traditionally, to gather and analyze students' feedback, the College emphasizes on Students' Union which acts as students' representative body. The College takes into account all the suggestions/grievances/complaints put forth by the Students'

Union. These suggestions are then discussed in the Staff Council meetings.

The College has a feedback system by which the teachers distribute the feedback forms among the students in the classrooms. The filled-up forms are then submitted to the College and the matter of serious concern, if any, is put forth as an agenda in the Staff Council meeting.

Informal feedback from the students regarding internal assessment, attendance, tutorials and other issues are taken up by the individual teachers and the teacher in-charge of the Departments.

The Principal and the Vice-Principal meet the class representatives of all classes for direct feedback and accordingly decisions are taken.

6.3 Faculty Empowerment Strategies

6.3.1-2 Enhancing the professional development of teaching and non-teaching staff.

The College believes in providing a hassle-free environment to both the teaching and non-teaching staff by encouraging them to attend seminars and workshops, and their respective orientation and refresher course programs organized by the University as well as the College. It has recently acquired the ISO 9001:2008 for Office Procedure, which makes the office an error-free and qualitatively-enhanced work place, keeping in mind the interests of all the stakeholders. The College has organized many Faculty Development Programmes (FDP), involving experts and eminent academicians to empower teachers with the latest developments in their fields. The non-teaching Staff, including the Librarian, are sent to various trainings, seminars and workshops.

6.3.3 The performance appraisal system of the staff to evaluate and ensure that information about multiple activities is appropriately captured and considered for better appraisal.

The College follows the University manual for the performance appraisal of the staff. The College boosts the staff to regularly enhance their experience qualitatively and then to submit the progress report to the College and upgrade their profiles. Their progress is then assessed for appraisal after they have filled the appraisal form of Delhi University. The appraisal system follows the API system of scoring points. This allows for the assessment of a wide range of activities that the teachers pursue from academics, administrative responsibilities. This appraisal system also factors in the individual teacher's interests and abilities in fields other than academics.

6.3.4 The review of the performance appraisal reports by the Management.

Through letters, the College communicates the reports to the Governing Body. The Management, after reviewing the reports, decides on promotions and other sanctions (for example, leave and travel abroad) and communicates the same through memorandums and letters. If any discrepancy or short comings are found in the profile of the staff, a warning letter or memo is issued.

6.3.5 The welfare schemes available for the teaching and non-teaching staff.

LTC, health and medical benefits, leave benefits, maternity leave, study leave, sabbatical leave, duty leave, reimbursement of seminars fees are some of the welfare schemes available to the teachers. The teachers are also allowed to withdraw or take loan from the Provident Fund Account as per the University rules and norms. Most of the teachers and non-teaching staff of the College have availed some or all of these welfare schemes. Proper records of the relevant information and their updation ensure smooth and efficient implementation of these schemes.

6.3.6 The measures taken by the Institution for attracting and retaining eminent faculty.

There is no provision to retain eminent faculty, but the College has been regularly inviting scholars and academicians of repute for lecture and workshops.

6.4 Financial Management and Resource Mobilization

6.4.1-2 The institutional mechanism to monitor effective and efficient use of available financial resources and auditing of accounts.

The internal audit is done by the University of Delhi and the external audit by CAG. The audit has been completed till 2013-14. Most of the money received for various activities of the College is spent by the Committees constituted by the Staff Council or directly by the Principal. There is a collective responsibility in budgeting and incurring budgeted expenditure. For expenditure related to the infrastructure (like building and other major projects) the Governing Body takes decisions in meetings where the teacher representatives also take part. The College has constituted the Development Fund and Infrastructure Committee, Purchase, Stock Verification and Stock Disposal Committee, Maintenance and Supervision of the Building Committee through which decisions regarding major expenditures are taken. The Principal, as the Chairperson of these committees can call for urgent meetings for the matters of immediate concern. Finances are duly reported to and approved by the Governing Body. The Bursar and Accounts Department deal with financial matters according to the guidelines laid down by the UGC, University of Delhi and Central Services rules.

6.4.3 The major sources of institutional receipts/funding.

The College is 100% financed by the University of Delhi and the UGC. Budgets are prepared and approved by the Governing Body and sent to the funding agency. Funds are received from time to time and are spent on the approved specified heads. The accounts of the College are audited and the audited statements are presented to the Governing Body by the Principal.

The College has sought additional financial grants through the XI plan and XII plan sanctions. The financing of many of the projects, both academic and extracurricular, like the Innovation Projects and the Gyanodaya project, are financed by the University of Delhi. We have recently approached the UGC for obtaining additional funds for sports activities. We have also approached some private agencies, like publishers and banks, for financial support for programs, like seminars and workshops.

6.5 Internal Quality Assurance System (IQAS)

6.5.1-7 Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC)

The College constituted an Academic Environment Improvement Committee in 2011. This Committee made an assessment of the academic quality of the College and gave suggestions regarding the need for improving the overall performance of the students during exams and increasing the pass percentage.

This Academic Environment Improvement Committee was later changed to the Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC).

Some of the decisions taken by the IQAC of the College are as follows:

1. Introduction of new undergraduate degree courses offered by the University of Delhi.
2. Introduction of diploma and certificate courses on Personality and English Enhancement Course, French language and Human Rights.
3. The IQAC designed and introduced the feedback forms for both the students and teachers.
4. Suggestions regarding the designing of the time-tables in compliance with the compulsory '5 hour presence in the College' rule for the teachers.
5. The Students' Union leaders and class representatives have regular meetings with the head of the institution. Suggestions are taken and ways of implementation are discussed and decided on, in the IQAC.
6. The College also consults, formally and informally, experts and educational leaders for guidance as part of its IQAC initiative.
7. During the annual alumni meeting, informal discussions are held regarding the ways of improving and developing the College.

CRITERIA VII INNOVATIONS AND BEST PRACTICE

7.1-2 Eco friendly campus.

The College is conscious of the environmental and ecological challenges that a modern and fast growing city like Delhi faces. As an institution, we try our best to be environmentally conscious. From installation of LED lights, to the policy of switching of lights, fans and air-conditioners when not in use, the College makes every effort to be eco-friendly. We are working towards rain water harvesting plan and have consulted a leading architect's consortium to execute this project. The College has filed a tender for the same and work will begin soon.

Environment audit of the existing building has not been done but the approved new building plans are based on the concept of green building and the design incorporates all the concepts concerning the protection and nurturing of the environment and ecology.

The College does not produce hazardous waste, but does take special care of its e-waste. The College, in collaboration, with Green e-waste Recyclers Pvt. Ltd., has handling its e-waste in an environmentally sound manner. Approximately, 110 kgs of e-waste that was generated was handled, stored and sent to the authorized collection center/registered dismantler, where it was safely disposed of and recycled. The College also organized an 'e-waste recycling campaign' in collaboration with GIZ Pvt. Ltd. and the Green e-waste recyclers Pvt. Ltd.

The College has supported the environmental initiative of the Hindustan Times 'Read, Recycle, Renew'. Our College has contributed to this project in order to achieve the objective of minimizing wastage.

7.2 Innovations

Some of the innovative ideas that the College has introduced are as follows:

- a. Construction of porta-cabins to augment classroom and activity room space to accommodate students admitted in newly introduced courses in the absence of funds to construct new permanent building.
- b. The Centre for Ethics and Values.
- c. A reformed and student friendly online admission process. The College has a machine for generation of Identity Cards with barcodes and library cards for students during Admissions.
- d. IT-enabled library and computer Lab.
- e. Student designed software for the College Master Time-Table.

7.2 Best practices of the College

Best Practice : One

- 1. Title of the Practice: The Construction of Porta-Cabins.
- 2. Goal: To provide within a limited time frame, additional space for conducting classes and facilitating various activities, in absence of funds for the construction of the proposed new building.

3. The Context: Though the land has been provided for the construction of a new building for the College, (within the premises of the existing campus) and all plans and permissions have been obtained, the actual construction of the new building has not been possible due to non-availability of the funds. Since, the College was sharing the building with Deshbandhu College (Morning), it was not possible for two full-time colleges to function simultaneously in the same building. The College found an immediate cost-effective, though temporary, solution to this pressing problem, by constructing 26 porta-cabins in the land allocated to the College.
4. The Practice: 26 porta-cabins have been constructed. Built with minimum cost and with fire resistant material, these cabins are durable constructions, large and well ventilated. They have glazed tiles floors, which are easy to clean and equipped with light but sturdy functional furniture. The porta class rooms are IT-enabled. The surroundings of the cabins have been landscaped beautifully with aesthetically pleasing lawns, gardens and pathways. Adequate arrangements for washrooms, and drinking water, and staff rooms have been made. The porta-cabin area has been designed with the requirements of the differently-abled in mind.
5. Evidence of Success: The porta-cabins have met the challenge of introducing new courses and expanding the academic horizons of the college, providing the students with comfortable class rooms and space for activities like workshops, debates, presentations, and rehearsals for music, dance and theatre productions. We are proud of the fact that non-availability of funds did not deter us to go ahead enthusiastically with the expansion plans that involved introduction of new courses. During this summer vacation, we plan to construct more porta-cabins so that our dependence on shared space with Deshbandhu College is further minimized. The College plans to continue to use these porta-cabins even when the new building is in place and slowly phase them out only after extracting its full usage.
6. Problems Encountered and Resources Required: Though well ventilated and provided with false ceilings, the porta-cabins become uncomfortably hot during the summer months. Fortunately, during the summer months regular classes do not take place in the College as the semester comes to an end by the third week of April and the next semester begins only in the third week of July. Only examinations are conducted for a few days during the summer months. Keeping in view that the College is seeking the introduction of new courses in the next academic year, plans are ready for the construction of 10 more porta-cabins.

Best Practice : Two

1. Title of the Practice: The Centre for Ethics and Values
2. Goal: Our endeavor is to infuse the spirit of collectivism, creativity and humanitarian spirit in our students. The Centre believes that education should foster values that are oriented towards unity and integrity of people. Such values should help eliminate obscurantism, religious fanaticism, violence and superstition. Apart from this reformatory role, ethics and value-education has a profound positive impact on the overall environment of the College. Anchored in our rich cultural heritage, humanistic national goals and universal perception of peace and solidarity have become the guiding path of the college.

3. The Context: In the year 2010, the UGC-supported Centre for Ethics and Values was initiated in the College. A one of its kind initiative, the Ethics Centre, as it is popularly known, seeks to synthesize ethical and moral value systems with academic pursuit, to ensure all-round growth and development of the students irrespective of the socio-economic and cultural backgrounds that they belong to.
4. The Practice: Since 2010, the Centre has organized a national seminar, two international conferences, and a national level workshop on Ethics.

The first was a two-day seminar on 'Ethical dimensions of Governance' at India International Centre in 2010. This was followed by a three-day conference on 'Restoring Culture of Ethics and Values: The Holistic Education Way' at the University of Delhi Conference Centre in 2012. In 2013, the Centre organised a students-teachers workshop on 'Power of Ethics in Learning', in collaboration with Institute of Life Long Learning (ILL), University of Delhi in 2013. In 2014, a two-day international conference on 'Corporate Transformation: The Ethical Way' was held at YMCA, New Delhi. Each of these events added fresh impetus to our efforts in making the subject of ethics and values popular.

Other than organizing these seminars which brought recognition and acclaim to the College, the Ethics Centre also organized in 2013 an unique event called 'Antargyaan' or 'Inner Knowledge', in collaboration with the Baha'i House of Worship (Lotus Temple), Gandhi Smriti and Darshan Samiti, Rajghat. The Antargyaan festival provided a window of opportunity to more than 500 students and 50 teachers to learn more about Indian art and culture, cuisine, language, music, economic, politics, geography, history and science with a focus on the integrated and synergetic culture of our country. The four-day celebrations were packed with activities that included debate, drama-competition, workshops, music, dance, theatre, yoga and meditation sessions.

In collaboration with the NSS unit of the College, the Ethics Centre organized a 'Joy of giving week', Daan Utsav from 8-15 October 2014. The main purpose of this celebration was to experience joy from the core of heart by way of 'giving' on all the seven days of 'Daan Utsav'. Three aspects of giving, that is Gyan Daan, in which students taught children from the neighboring areas; Pushtika Daan, in which students donated books and note books to needy children; and Mudra daan, where money and articles were collected for distribution among poor was a unique way to instill a conscientious heart and mind for the participants.

On 25 March 2015, Dr. Vinit Haksar (Fellow, Edinburgh University, U.K.) spoke on 'Happiness and Well Being'. The first ever Ethics Fest, 'Virasat' began on 15 April 2015, with the key note address delivered by the Chief Guest, Prof. H.S. Prasad (Head, Department of Philosophy, University of Delhi). A special talk was delivered by Philippines-born and Canada-based B. A. Janardan Swami on 'Ethics, Spirituality and Personal identity'. This was followed by an interactive session exploring fundamental questions such as, 'What makes me the person I am? Why should we be ethical? What makes us unethical?' A special talk was also given by Dr. Smita Jha (Associate Professor, IIT, Roorkee), on 'Role of Ethics in meeting life-goals'. The post-lunch session included events like short-film and documentary screenings and the presentation of a play on ethical values made by the students of the Centre. The culminating event was the Mock Parliament on Ethics. The students overwhelmingly participated in the parliamentary debate to pass a legislation on Ethics.

The Centre has published three volumes of the International Journal of Applied Ethics. The Centre has also published a book entitled Ethics in Governance (2011).

5. Evidence of Success: During 2013-14, the researchers from Transparency International India engaged in a study of ethical values and peace study, collaborated with the Centre to study the impact of ethics on the minds the students of our College. A study conducted in two parts on our 700 students by Ms. Naghma Siddiqui, a research scholar of Jamia Hamdard, revealed a marked positive impact that the Centre for Ethics and Values made over the attitude and conduct of our students. The highly positive findings of the report were published in the International Journal of Applied Ethics. Both the parts of this report, Part-1 and Part-2 have been published in the successive issues of the Journal.
6. Problems Encountered and Resources Required: The Centre for Ethics and Values is a unique initiative. It has greatly helped in integrating different disciplines and bringing together socially and culturally diverse sections of student community in a harmonious, integrated and creative platform of self-expression. The Centre has been a timely intervention in making everyone aware of an ethical and moral sensibility as an essential requirement for nation building. The challenge is to keep the momentum on and continuously engage the students in a introspective dialogue that finds its expression in concrete social interventions.

Best Practice : Three

1. Title of the Practice: The Reformed Admission Process in Ramanujan College
2. Goal: It is our endeavor to make the experience of the students who seeks admission in our College be something that they would cherish and feel proud of once they get admitted.
3. The Context: Getting an admission to any college of the University of Delhi in a course of one's choice is a challenging task. There is a huge demand, but the seats are limited. Every year witnesses higher cut-off percentages. The students and their guardians go about the admission process in the scorching summer heat of the capital with extreme anxiety, tension and sometimes even harassment before they finally get a seat in the University of Delhi. Keeping this in mind, our College has introduced, in the last three years, a highly reformed and efficient admission process with the single aim of making the admissions completely hassle free and smooth. We believe that the process in which we conduct our admissions is a Best Practice and we are proud to be able to complete our admission process without any disruptions and grievances.

4. The Practice: The following measures have been adopted by the College for its admission process:

- I. The College has an integrated admission process.
- II. The Staff Council constituted Admission Committee decides on all the parameters of admission, including fixing of cut-off percentage according to the guidelines of the University of Delhi. Where there is provision for the College to make its own rules, the Admission Committee judiciously and collectively takes those decisions. For example, the College provides 5% concessions to women applicants. This is as per the College's policy to promote education among women. The Admission Committee also sets up a help-desk, prior to the first date of admission to counsel admission-seekers about the salient features of the College and the admission process. The College holds Open Days for parents and students in which the teachers provide counseling and guidance to any parent or student who is seeking admission in our College.
- III. The actual admission process begins with the applicant getting his final year school mark sheet checked by the help-desk outside the admission building. Only students who qualify in the cut-off percentage are allowed to enter the building. Accompanying parents and guardians are also allowed entry. This way we minimize the number of people entering the building and thus keep control of crowds.
- IV. Next, the student's registration number of the University admission form and the authenticity of the school documents are verified. The OBC, SC, ST and PWD certificates are also checked. Marks are once again scrutinized and cut-off percentage verification is done. The original documents of the applicant are also checked. There are two computer stations to do this job. Each unit has a set of teachers and office staff to help the applicant and, hence, the step is carried on efficiently and quickly.
- V. Post verification the applicant enters an air conditioned central hall and fills up an online application form with assistance of the volunteers. The student also fills up undertakings and other required documents. The filled up e-form is accessed by the teacher in-charge of each department in the same room. A print out of the filled in application form is brought to the teacher in-charge for final signature. Once the application form is signed by the teacher in-charge and then counter signed by the Admission Committee Convener, the form is sent to the bank counter which is placed within this central hall. There are two bank counters and the applicant then pays the admission fees there and then. The bank counter stays open till all the admissions done for the day have been issued receipts against payment of fees. The faculty on duty also stays back till all admissions for the day have been completed.

- VI. We believe that the student seeking admission should be self reliant and we do not encourage parents/guardians filling up forms. There are adequately provided waiting halls for the parents/guardians accompanying the applicants. Arrangements for drinking water and washrooms for all the visitors are provided. There is a separate staff room and pantry for the faculty and the staff on duty.
- VII. Once the admission fee is paid, the applicant is issued a bar-coded student Identity-Card and library cards. For this, a machine SMART50 is used by the College. Because of the machine, a common database for all the students is created and is used for all the official purposes for the whole length of time that the students stays in the College.
- VIII. With the help of the multiple checks, we have been able to minimize disputes and grievances and thus reduce the admission process time which is no more than an hour and half. The College keeps its admission window open till all seats in all the courses are filled. Though majority admissions are done within the first six days of admission (Second List), the process sometimes lasts for more than 12 days (Fourth List) for some courses.
- IX. The College had counseling sessions both for the students and the parents. The teachers take up the queries of the parents and interact with them. The NSS volunteers provide services to the admission seekers and make sure that they do not face any problems and make the process hassle free. The College also constitutes an Admission Committee, Grievance Redressed Committee, and Anti-Ragging and Disciplinary Committee. All disputes or problems are addressed immediately and decisions are taken promptly.
- X. The cooperative and helpful ambiance during admission process helps the admission seekers who are otherwise eager and tense. As a College we feel proud that we put in a collective effort during the admission process.
- XI. The admission process culminates with a formal orientation ceremony that is addressed by the Principal. All the students who are admitted are welcomed to the College collectively and then separately by each Department.

- 5. Evidence of Success: For the past three years the College has had dispute and grievance free admissions.

33. Teaching Methods adopted to improve student learning

- The teaching pedagogy focuses on developing the thinking ability of the students.
- They are given assignments and projects to motivate self and group learning and research.
- The well qualified and dedicated faculty of the Department dynamically engages with the students using both classroom and virtual mediums to go beyond the course content and employ the learned techniques practically to build a strong foundation.
- The students are given complete exposure to the emerging technologies to be able to adapt to the changing trends adherent to this field.

34. Participation in Institutional social responsibility (ISR) and Extension activities

- Many students from the Department work with NGOs and visit slums and orphanages routinely to teach young students.
- Some students are actively participating in the activities of the NSS wing of the college.
- The department is determined to work on a project to unite people from different fraternities through an online portal to address issues of social relevance.
- Some students are also part of the innovation project: learning through community service in which they are engaged in helping children from slums.

35. SWOC Analysis of Department and Future Plans

Strength

- The Department has a young dynamic faculty that actively engages with students and has a keen interest in research.

- The students are a great strength to the Department. They offer great potential and caliber to learn new things and explore arenas outside the curriculum. As has been stated students are involved in several extra-curricular activities like organization of fests, working on the E-Magazine, trainings for other students, placement cell related activities and many more.
- The administration and the staff are always supportive of the efforts of the Department and readily provide all required resources.
- Regular lectures by academic experts provide a source of learning and inspiration to the Department.
- The faculty along with the counseling cell of the college continuously interacts with the students to guide them on their personal and professional issues.

Weakness

- The lab is shared with other departments which may raise a problem once the college has all batches of B.Sc. (Hons) Computer Science is running.
- The department requires better infrastructure for managing and developing the Center for Robotics and Artificial Intelligence.

Opportunities

- The college has already applied for initiating a B.Sc. (Hons) course in Computer Science which will bring in more students from diverse profiles
- The Department plans to engage in innovation projects sponsored by agencies like DST, University of Delhi.
- The department seeks collaboration with industry to improve the career profile of the students in form of short term courses, trainings, internships and projects.

Challenges

- The Department wishes to offer its students with campus placements in reputed organizations in worthy profiles.
- The impetus of the department is not on rote learning but going beyond the curriculum and out of the box thinking which needs to be inculcated in students. The focus is more on practical knowledge.
- The department wishes to inculcate entrepreneurial skills in students and not only give them subject knowledge but also make them better humans.

FUTURE PLANS

The department is dedicated to play a vital role in the overall development of the students as well as making contribution to the society. Some of the ongoing projects and proposed ventures in this regard are discussed below:

- A group of our students are actively engaged in teaching students in orphanage and slums.
- A project on “Smart Traffic Management Using Sensor Networks” has been planned. Some of its features are
 - Sensors for traffic congestion detection and prediction.
 - Vehicle identification based on sensors and ensuring that the vehicles follow the traffic rules.

- Automatic detection of traffic rule violation.
- Algorithms for traffic light switching for better traffic management.
- Today online social network plays a major role in our daily life. To understand it in a better way, one project entitled “Sentiment Analysis on Online Social Network” is being planned.
- One project on restoration of historical documents is under way entitled “Image processing for historical documents”.
- To promote interdisciplinary work for the benefit of the society, the department has established a society named “The Innovator's Society”. The goal of the society is to provide a platform to discuss the real world problems and to find an optimal solution for that.
- The department is planning to develop a three level website for making the education
- Google has counted the total number of books to be more than 200 million approximately. It is not possible to get access most of the books in hard copy. So we are planning to make a login based e-book resource for our students. This will be our first level project for our website.
- In the second level we are planning to have an online learning management system which will include online assignment and project submission, online evaluation and doubt clarifications.
- In the last phase, we are planning to have an online certificate course for the students who are not part of our college. In this phase we will have online lectures and online exams.

The Department of History uses teaching methods like lectures, seminars, discussions and detailed evaluation of written works. The lectures are extensive, yet the emphasis is on explaining the concepts and processes as lucidly as possible in order to imbibe the students with research interest. The Department encourages the students to think critically and define categories both heuristically and historically. The Department aims for the regular and careful evaluation of students' written work as it is extremely important for forming the crucial component of the learning process. The Department also attempts to inter-relate or even synthesize various historiographical positions rather than merely focusing on their contestations and mutual contradictions.

34. Participation in Institutional Social Responsibility (ISR) and Extension activities

The Department aims to sensitise the students through Heritage protection programme and through the involvement in community welfare activities.

35. SWOC analysis of the department and Future plans

Strength

History has emerged as one of the most important subject of the College by appropriating inter-disciplinary approach. The Department has the highest number books in the library. The collection has considerably large amount of books in Hindi medium with an aim of inculcating research aptitude among the students.

Weakness

Shortage of permanent teaching staff

Opportunities

The Department is aware that there is a growing interest in the study of History among students at the Higher Secondary Level across the country and the Department believes that in the coming years this subject will have a high demand.

Challenges

With the introduction of B.A. (Hons) History academic environment with holistic and meaningful interactions will be established with the other departments.

32. Teaching methods adopted to improve student learning

The Political Science Department has been attempting to bring in a strategy that can go beyond the regular method of class room teaching, within the parameters of the University, for a particular curriculum of a subject. The syllabus and the teaching modules are more or less fixed in nature. The Department, while keeping the above lakshman rekha in mind, sets the following pedagogic methodologies and innovative teaching practices:-

1. Since we have both English and Hindi medium students, therefore, the most important concern of the department is to deliver the lectures in both the mediums. Mostly the books and articles are in English language so all teacher make their individual notes to deliver lectures on various topics in Hindi.
2. The Department has been equipping the library with the updated reading list and latest published books to expose the students to the most recent reading materials in the field.
3. The students are continuously motivated to make use of references from books, journals, websites etc. while preparing their answers and projects.
4. Our classrooms have latest projectors, enabling the use of technology in preparation of lectures and students presenting their paper through power point presentation.
5. The Department conducts remedial classes for weak/average students. In fact, the department also provides economic assistance to needy students.
6. The Contact Periods (CPs) are much valued in the sense that the students come out with their personal doubts and queries, which otherwise cannot be addressed in the class. Since it is a small group, the students get an opportunity to express themselves and engage in interactive discussions.

7. To inculcate a sense of competitiveness, under Plus Politics (Departmental Society), the department organizes inter-class and inter college Debate, Extempore, Quiz Competition, Poster Making, Slogan writing, Cartoon Making competitions etc.
8. Extensive use of Newspaper reports and articles are made in the classroom teaching so as to offer the students an understanding of the concept, followed by discussion among the students' vis-à-vis case studies in the contemporary period.
9. In order to expose the students to the expertise on various subjects, the department organizes different lecturers by inviting domain experts. Students are encouraged to ask question so that a healthy discussion take place.
10. In addition to classroom teaching, study tours are arranged so that students not only get an opportunity to visit and study different places but also get an opportunity to build team spirit which is a vital part of a study tour. Towards this endeavour, the department had already organized two study tours in 2014: Gandhi Bhawan [the students of IMBH from Political Science (H), Statistics (H) and Hindi (H) were shown around the museum and a documentary on Gandhi, followed by an interactive session. The students prepared a project and PPT on the same as a part of their course curriculum] and Orissa (details mentioned above).
11. Based on experience that when some challenges are thrown to a group of students to prepare some task then it is observed that responses of the students and their stimuli act more quickly and in a team spirit of completing the task. This throwing up of challenge for getting work done is practiced by the department. Compared to other methods, this method has proved quite provocative to get the students out of their shell, to act and react.
12. The address of Mr. Pranab Mukherjee, Hon'ble President of India, was directly webcast over video conferencing on 19 January 2015 at Ghalib Auditorium. Political Science (H) students from all the three years attended the programme followed by discussion with the faculty members.

33. Participation in international social responsibility (isr) and extension activities.

The students and faculty members regularly participate in the institutional and social responsibility and extension activities organized by the college NSS unit.

34. SWOC analysis of the Department and future plans.

Strengths

- Cohesively knit department.
- Excellent teamwork amongst the Faculty.
- Strong inter-personal communication and mentorship of the students.
- All faculty members have been proactive in college activities, societies and events besides their teaching commitments.

Weaknesses

Students prefer courses like commerce over Political Science for immediate and better placements.

Opportunities

- Encourage junior teachers to expand their organizational, research and teaching potentialities.
- Be more pro-active in counseling students on career goals and placements.

Challenges

The major challenge before the department is to understand the students and to orient them towards the required curriculum at the same time to give them space. Time has come, it is not the teacher but the students who evaluates the teacher, so teacher has to come up with the expectation of the students to be more techno-savvy than the students on the other hand the course content is so vast that it is a big challenge to make it inter-disciplinary. A teacher expects his final product-students, to be more comfortable in the market where he is going to launch his career whatever the field may be. In the present arena teacher can force the students into something rather to inculcate a sense of belongingness to very domain the teacher wants him to enter in.

Future Plans:

Based on the present experience, and looking forward to expanding student-teacher interphase along with student-outside interphase, the following future plans are in hand which will be in addition to strengthening our pedagogy already stated future plans:-

- The Department has planned to organize a National Conference Changing Dynamics of Indian Politics: The Challenges of Good Governance.
- Publication of Departmental Newsletter, Political Xpress, through active participation of the students, so that they get an opportunity to prepare and publish their works relating to their subject. This is expected to enhance their writing skill and use of references as a means of sourcing original writing.
- To make Mock Parliament sessions more lively, students will be taken to witness working Parliament Sessions.
- To organize Model United Nations sessions in collaboration with New
